

JEFF MCCORSTIN
President Global Customs Brokerage & North America Supply Chain Solutions

Jeff McCorstin, who began his career as a peak season package driver in 1990, serves as the President of Global Customs Brokerage & North America Supply Chain Solutions since January 2020.

Prior to his current role, he was President of Global Customs Brokerage and Trade Advisory Services since April, 2016. In this capacity, he was responsible for the customs brokerage operations, Trade Advisory Services and customs & trade compliance globally across all business units at UPS.

Jeff served as President Asia Pacific Freight Forwarding for three years, responsible for air, ocean, rail and road freight as well as customs brokerage.

From 2011 - 2013, Jeff was the Senior Vice President of Global Freight Forwarding Air and Ocean Product. He also had responsibility for the Global Freight Forwarding Healthcare and Government Operations support groups.

Before serving in this role, Jeff was named President Europe Freight Forwarding. In this capacity he was responsible for Air, Ocean and Road Freight Forwarding services in more than 120 countries and territories across Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

In 2005, Jeff was named CFO for Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

During his first 15 years, Jeff held a variety of positions in operations, industrial engineering, strategic cost and F&A across 6 different locations in the US. He was a field controller in two districts and the Air Finance Controller in Louisville, KY, where he was responsible for the financial analysis of aircraft acquisitions and the UPS Worldport facility.

A native of Stockton, California, Jeff earned a bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of California and a Master's of Business Administration in Finance from San Diego State University. Jeff is married to his wife Kris and has two children, Courtney (25) and Riley (23).