

The Center for the Advancement of the Humanities Presents:

Showcasing the Humanities

A Lecture Series in the Spring of 2022

Open and Free to the Public

The Center for the Advancement of the Humanities (CfAH) is pleased to invite the Marquette community and the general public for a lecture series in the Spring semester of 2022. The lecture series aims to showcase the work of humanities experts from Marquette University. The lectures will be from a faculty representing the Departments of Philosophy, Theology, and Languages, Literatures, and Cultures. The lectures are meant to be accessible for a general audience, and they aim to engage the greater Milwaukee community.

1. Thursday, February 3rd, 5:00 pm – Haggerty Museum of Art
(1234 W Tory Hill St.)

Speaker: Dr. Jessica Wolfendale (Department of Philosophy)

“Philosophy and State Violence”

2. Thursday, March 31st, 5:00 pm – Jewish Museum Milwaukee
(1360 N Prospect Ave.)

Speaker: Dr. Jeanne-Nicole Saint-Laurent (Department of Theology)

“Gluttony in Christian Theological Imagination”

3. Thursday, April 7th, 5:00 pm – Haggerty Museum of Art
(1234 W Tory Hill St.)

Speaker: Dr. Scott Dale (Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures)

“The Innovative Spanish Enlightenment”

General Information:

- Parking will be available at these sites.
- To RSVP, please fill out the EventBrite invitation
- Reception contingent on the COVID-19 situation

