

NATIONAL CONFLICT, PERSONAL EXPERIENCES: A SYMPOSIUM ON THE CIVIL WAR-ERA UNITED STATES IN HONOR OF JIM MARTEN

Presented by

*The Center for the Advancement of the Humanities,
The Department of History, and Raynor Memorial Libraries.*

Join us to celebrate the distinguished career of Professor Emeritus Jim Marten and hear leading historians of the Civil War-era United States explore cutting-edge topics in the field, including the suffering of soldiers and veterans, the history of childhood, and the impact of armed conflict beyond the battlefield.

March 21–22, 2024

Sensenbrenner Hall, 1103 W. Wisconsin Avenue

For more details, see <https://www.marquette.edu/history/> or email Dr. Alison Clark Efford (alison.efford@marquette.edu)

Presenters:

Stephen Berry, University of Georgia

Megan Bever, Missouri Southern State University

William Blair, Pennsylvania State University

Alison Clark Efford, Marquette University

Stephen Engle, Florida Atlantic University

Lorien Foote, Texas A & M University

Caroline Janney, University of Virginia

Jonathan Jones, James Madison University

Stephen Kantrowitz, University of Wisconsin – Madison

Amy Murrell Taylor, University of Kentucky