Position Opening

The UW-Whitewater Early Childhood Education program ECE4U is looking for educators who are interested in teaching at the university level. The program uses an online blended hybrid model, meaning that courses are online, with 3 Saturday meeting dates for each 8-week course. The students in the program have all already earned their associates degree in early childhood education from one of the Wisconsin Technical Colleges. They are now working toward their bachelor’s degrees and/or teaching licenses. Because the courses are online (only meeting 3 Saturdays on UW-Whitewater campus or in Cudahy), educators working in the field are encouraged to apply.

We currently have classes open to teach two sections of an 8 week course in the first half of the fall semester and the second half of the semester, COMMDIS 355: Language Development and Disorders in Children. The course is 3 credits, and pay is $4,000.

One class runs September 7-October 29, with face to face meeting dates on 9/10, 10/1, and 10/22. These meeting dates will be held at the Acelero Center at 5901 S Packard Ave, Cudahy.

One class runs October 31-December 23, with face to face meeting dates on 11/5, 11/19, and 12/10. These meeting dates will be held at the UW-Whitewater campus.

A master’s degree and experience in the field of education related to the course topic are required.

This program serves a diverse population of students and embraces the principles and practices of Inclusive Excellence that are reflected in UW System’s commitment to diversity and educational opportunity. Demonstrated success in working with diverse populations is desired.

Please find more information about the ECE4U program at: http://www.uww.edu/coeps/departments/ece4u

Interested applicants may send their questions, resumes, and letters of interest to Anne Tillett at tilletta@uww.edu for consideration for the position(s).