Friday, September 20, 2013 - Raynor Conference Center

9:10 am Opening Remarks
President, LSMU; Dr. Susan Wood — Chair, MU Theology
Dr. James South — Chair, MU Philosophy

9:30 am Kenny and Lonerhan on Substantial Form
Chris Friel
Boston College, Maryvale Institute

10:00 am A “Marginal Theorem”? A Reply to Lonerhan on the Necessity of Pure Nature
Erik Hesla
Marquette University

10:30 am Break

10:45 am Affections of Reason: The Influence of Aquinas on Lonerhan’s Early Definition of Affection
Eric Mabry
Regis College, University of Toronto

11:15 am Horizons and Conversions: A Set of Relations
Bryan Gent
Regis College, University of Toronto

11:45 am Lunch

1:00 pm Contextual Theology, Meaning, and Religious Communications
Dr. Andrea Stapleton
Loyola University Chicago

1:50 pm Break

2:05 pm A Tale of Two Bernards: Bernard Lonerhan’s Levels of Consciousness & Bernard of Clairvaux’s Degrees of Love
Samuel Granger
Boston College

2:35 pm Whose Love? An Exegetical Analysis of Lonerhan’s Use of Romans 5:5
Eric Vanden Eykel
Marquette University
3:05 pm  Break

3:20 pm  Lonergan and Foucault: Toward an Intellectual Dialogue
                   James Mollison
                   Loyola Marymount University

3:50 pm  Geschichte, Systematics, and Dasein:
                  Bringing Together Lonergan and Heidegger
                   Andrew Vink
                   Marquette University

4:20 pm  Lindbeck, Rahner, and Lonergan:
                  An Apologia and, Perhaps, an Apology?
                   Jakob Rinderknecht
                   Marquette University

4:50 pm  Break

5:00 pm  Misbehavin’ in the Not Numerous Center:
                  Karl Rahner’s The Trinity, Theological Method, and Liberation
                   Dr. Jeremy W. Blackwood
                   Marquette University

Saturday, September 21, 2013 - Raynor Conference Center

10:10 am  PANEL on “Grace, Consciousness, and Conversion”
           Featuring: Dr. J. Michael Stebbins, Avera Health;
                       Dr. Steven Cone, Lincoln Christian University;
                       Dr. L. Matthew Petillo, Boston College;
                       Nick DiSalvatore, doctoral candidate in theology at Boston College;
                       Jen Sanders, doctoral student in theology at Boston College

12:20 pm  Lunch

1:40 pm  Symbols & the Meaning of Life: On the Need For Psychic Conversion in a Post-Christian, Image-Saturated Culture
                   Patrick Manning
                   Boston College

2:10 pm  Cinematic Montage and the Act of Insight
                   Nicholas Collura
                   Boston College School of Theology and Ministry

2:40 pm  Break

2:55 pm  Pulchritude & the Political: The Dynamism of the Aesthetic Transcendental Determination in the Scale of Values & the Hope of Social Transformation
                   Ryan Hemmer
                   Marquette University

3:25 pm  Functional Specialization for Scholarship in International Law: Some Suggestions Regarding Mutual Challenges
                   Annie Maldonado Heaps, JD
                   Boston College Law
                   and
                   Jonathan Heaps
                   Marquette University

4:30 pm  Mass at the Basilica of St. Josaphat
                   2333 South 6th St., Milwaukee