About the City

Rome, the capital of Italy, is one of the most influential and important cities in history. As the center of the Roman Empire, it became the symbol of European civilization by expanding its rich culture in all of its conquered territories. It would continue influencing the world during the Renaissance period. Artists like Raphael, Michelangelo, and Bramante created pieces of work that would amaze the world with its beauty. Their work can be appreciated today in various places in Rome and, especially, the Vatican City.

Today, Rome stands as a testimony that the old Europe can intertwine with the modern world. Along the sections of ancient walls and marble columns there are modern apartments and luxurious villas. Students can explore the past by visiting the Colosseum, the Pantheon, and the Roman Forum. Additionally they can see world-renown art in various churches in the city, inside the Vatican Museum, and most importantly, see the famous Sistine chapel.

The city of Rome is also wonderfully situated in the center of the country. One can easily access major cities such as Naples, and Milan by train. There are also various ways of reaching smaller cities, such as Pisa, Venice, and Salerno.

Accounting, Finance, Business Law, and Computer Science. Students can take classes from any of these areas.

Students who want to be involved in extracurricular activities are welcome to participate in the different student activities available. Such activities include the student newspaper, the yearbook, athletic activities (i.e. soccer, basketball, etc.), and access to a gym and a pool. There are also musical and dramatic productions put on by the University Theater Group. In addition, the Student Government organizes a variety of cultural and social events open to all the students. Examples of such activities are barbecues, jazz performances, and luncheons with distinguished figures of the political and business world. Moreover, since traveling is an integral part of the study abroad experience, each term there are trips organized to other cities in Italy such as Siena and Pisa.

John Cabot University offers its students the following resources:

- Frohing Library – access to one of the best English Language collections in Rome. It houses 20,000 items in its collections including monographs, journals, newspapers, videos, and DVDs.
- Computer Laboratories – Various labs where students can work on assignments or access the Internet.
- Secchia Public Affairs and Communication Center – Provides an open air setting for events and seminars on current affairs and international issues.
