INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (August 2006; Updated September 2012)
At the completion of a major in Information Technology, the graduate will be able to:

1. Define business problem.
2. Analyze and model business processes and data.
3. Develop software programs.
4. Evaluate software packages
5. Analyze ethical issues in business situations.