Office of Student Development Programs and Services
(August 2006; Revised April 2013)
After participation in Student Development programs, the student is able to:

1. Contribute to the development of positive community.
   (Campus Community)

2. Use their talents to benefit others.
   (Leadership)

3. Increase their multicultural competence, particularly as it relates to issues of race, sexual orientation, and religion.
   (Diversity)

4. Demonstrate congruence between their values and their actions.
   (Integrity/Conduct)

5. Continue their participation in service as a commitment to justice.
   (Ethic of Service)