STUDENT EDUCATIONAL SERVICES (August 2006; Revised July 2011)
After participation in Student Educational Services, the student is able to:

1. To help students with the transition from passive learners dependent upon limited memory strategies to independent college level learners recognizing, selecting, and effectively utilizing a range of study strategies, students will demonstrate new learning strategies and tools (as appropriate to course/topics covered in one-on-one study skills sessions) that contribute to their independence as college learners.

2. Students will demonstrate mastery of the tools and strategies necessary to become independent college learners in the course for which they have sought tutoring.
