Provide an example of the program’s most interesting or important assessment finding that demonstrates the program’s success associated with a program learning outcome.

Anthropology students are able to successfully integrate anthropological knowledge and apply it to the study of social problems at local, national and global levels. They demonstrate this ability consistently across case studies from various historical periods and geographical areas.

Describe an assessment result that indicates an opportunity for improvement and identify the specific actions the program will take to improve student learning.

Some students are hesitant about drawing on knowledge from previous or concurrent anthropology courses, and from relevant courses in other disciplines. Our faculty will increase communication about syllabi and course objectives across the curriculum and encourage students to think about their disciplinary training more broadly.