Provide an example of the program’s most interesting or important assessment finding that demonstrates the program’s success associated with a program learning outcome.

Through student conversations and feedback it became evident that integrating the Ignatian Pedagogy into courses and curriculum was desired. Faculty have embraced this exact notion and the following courses have been identified as courses that will be best suited to begin the initial and intential integration. PRST 2110 Principles of Liberal Studies, PRST 2140 Research and Statistical Methods and ORLE 3160 Systems Thinking

Describe an assessment result that indicates an opportunity for improvement and identify the specific actions the program will take to improve student learning.

Approximately half of the graduating seniors demonstrate an acceptable knowledge base for senior level research. As individuals currently engaged in their careers, the need to understand researched based articles is paramount. Faculty will be providing opportunities through readings, additional research projects and in class conversation related to ethical dilemma and social justice to provoke thought about ethics in everyday life so that the non-traditional student can immediately carry this into the workplace.