Provide an example of the program’s most interesting or important assessment finding that demonstrates the program’s success associated with a program learning outcome.

Overall, the Service Learning department is pleased with the program data which reveals students are meeting the social justice learning outcome through their Service Learning experience. The data reveals: 88% of students self-reported their Service Learning experience provided a greater awareness of social justice issues in the community, 86% of students self-reported their Service Learning experience helped them think critically about the root causes and consequences of social injustices, 87% of students self-reported that as a result of their Service Learning experience, the student will be more likely to demonstrate a concern for social justice in everyday life, and 97% of students self-reported they will work to further equality and injustice for all people.

Describe an assessment result that indicates an opportunity for improvement and identify the specific actions the program will take to improve student learning.

Although forty-three percent of all Service Learning students attribute their community agency, site placement as the main aspect which led to their greater awareness of social justice issues, and twenty-two percent attribute their greater awareness of social to the clients they work with in their community agency, site placements. Only thirteen percent of students participating in academic courses with a Service Learning component attribute their professor's guidance as the main aspect which led to their greater awareness of social justice issues. The Service Learning department will partner with faculty to try to improve faculty impact on the student's understanding of the social justice learning outcome.