PUBLIC RELATIONS (August 2006)
At the completion of the Public Relations major, the graduate is able to:

1. Apply the principles of primary and secondary research to public relations situations.
2. Create effective public relations plans using fundamental planning components that include situation analysis, public profile, objectives, strategies and tactics.

3. Create effective, objective-oriented PR materials in a variety of formats and for different publics.