COMMUNICATION STUDIES (Updated 1/25/08)
At the completion of the Communication Studies major, the graduate is able to:

1. Explain major theories of communication and apply to multiple contexts.
2. Conduct and evaluate communication research.
3. Construct and analyze well reasoned arguments.
4. Design and present effective messages for multiple audiences.
5. Demonstrate skills in listening, conflict management, and decision-making.