HISTORY M.A. (August 2006)
At the completion of the History M.A. degree program, the graduate is able to:

1. Construct syntheses of factual and historio-graphical information in two distinct fields in history.

2. Use historical research tools and methods to write article-length papers on original, historical topics.