PHYSICAL THERAPY  D.P.T. (August 2006)
At the completion of the professional Physical Therapy doctoral program, the graduate is able to:

1. Participate in professional learning.

2. Demonstrate the skills necessary to provide autonomous physical therapy services in essential practice areas as defined by the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice.

3. Screen individuals through testing and differential diagnosis, to determine a physical diagnosis which is within the scope of physical therapy, and/or to determine the need for referral to other health professionals.

4. Apply evidence based decision making in planning effective, cost efficient plans of care.