PSYCHOLOGY (August 2006)
At the completion of the Psychology major, the graduate is able to:

1. Demonstrate satisfactory knowledge in psychology as a science.

2. Apply the scientific process to psychological issues.

3. Demonstrate the ethical principles underlying psychological science.