STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE (including Center for Health Education and Promotion)
(August 2006)

After four years of participation in Student Health Services programs, the student is able to:

1. Apply health information to personal choices that improve one’s overall health status.

2. Support and encourage positive health decisions that enhance the overall wellness of the Marquette University community.