A word about the tax advantages of participating in the voice and silent auctions...

According to the IRS, donors who purchase items at a charity auction may claim a charitable contribution deduction for the excess of the purchase price paid for an item over its fair market value. The values of the items and opportunities in this catalog have been determined by the donors of these goods and services. If you pay more than the published value, the difference between the amount paid and the published value may constitute a charitable contribution deduction.

If you are sharing the cost of an auction item between Friends, each party must directly pay by their own means in order to receive a potential charitable contribution deduction.
