

1970s

Philip Angelo (BA) has worked as a journalist and is currently senior editor of the Daily Journal in Kankakee, Illinois.

John Berens (PhD) pursued a career in academic administration and retired as Associate Vice Chancellor for Enrollment and Information Services at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. He is the author of Providence and Patriotism in Early America, 1640-1815 (1978)

Bob Bauman (BA) is an attorney who has served as a member of the Common Council in the city of Milwaukee since 2004.

Gary W. Bonkamp (BA) served for four years as a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy, attended law school at St. Louis University, and is a partner in the law firm of Roberts, Perryman, Bomkamp & Meives in St. Louis.

Brian B. Burke (BA) received his law degree from Georgetown University, where he was a member of the editorial board of the law review. He served on the Milwaukee Common Council and for a number of years as a Wisconsin state senator. He practices law in Milwaukee.

William E. Callahan, Jr. (BA) is currently a Magistrate Judge for the U. S. District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

Raymond M. Dall'Osto (BA) worked as a public defender and for the Wisconsin branch of the Wisconsin Civil Liberties Union for a number of years. He is currently an attorney specializing in civil rights and constitutional issues for the Milwaukee law firm Gimbel, Reilly, Guerin, and Brown.

James M. De Broux (BA) has been teaching world history at Random Lake High School in Random Lake, Wis., for seven years. Dozens of his students have qualified for the state National History Day competition sponsored by the Wisconsin Historical Society, and seven have qualified for the national competition at the University of Maryland-College Park.

Mary Neese Fertl (BA) received her law degree from Marquette University and is now a partner specializing in real estate law at Quarles & Brady in Milwaukee. She was listed as one of The Best Lawyers in America® 2009 (published by Woodward/White, Inc., of Aiken, S.C.) for 2009.

Jeff Gabrysiak (BA) has served for a number of years as an assistant attorney general for Wisconsin and as chairman of the town board of Springfield, Wisconsin.

Laura Gellott (BA, MA) received her PhD from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She is currently a professor and chair of the Department of History at UW-Parkside in Kenosha.

Peter J. Ibold (BA) received his law degree from Cleveland State University and is one of the founders of the Peterson & Ibold Law Firm in Cleveland. In 2007 he was named as one of Ohio's "Super Lawyers"—among the top 5% of lawyers in the field of family law.

Cynthia M. Johnson (BA) is General Counsel of Mercanti Group investment bank in Minneapolis. She is also Corporate Secretary and Director of Business Operations. Prior to joining Mercanti, she served for more than 25 years as the Commissioner (Chief Legal Officer) of the Minnesota Supreme Court.

James H. Kaster (BA) is a partner in the Minneapolis law firm of Nichols Kaster & Anderson, specializing in employee discrimination, sexual harassment, and class action cases. He is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, whose membership is limited to 1% of the trial lawyers in any state, and is a Fellow in the prestigious National College of Labor and Employment Lawyers.

Kathleen Kean (MA) has been a teacher at Nicolet High School in Glendale, Wisconsin, for more than twenty years. She was part of the Organization of American Historians Focus Group that reviewed the National History Standards and served on the board of editors of the Magazine of History. She helped found and has served on the board of Historic Milwaukee, Inc., a historic preservation organization, for which she designed and implemented a program to train volunteers to give architectural and historical walking tours. She received the OAH Mary K. Bonsteel Tachau Precollegiate Teaching Award in 2000, while in 2004 she was named the American History Teacher of the Year by the Gilder Lehrman Institute in New York City.

James R. Kieffer (BA) is a circuit court judge in Waukesha County, Wisconsin.

Gregory S. Kordecki (BA) earned his Master of Professional Accountancy and Master of Decision Sciences from Georgia State University. He is an associate professor of accounting at Clayton State University in Georgia.

Bryan Lantagne (BA) is currently director of the Securities Division in the Office of the Secretary of State for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Martin J. Lipske (BA) is currently the District County of Iron County, Wisconsin.

William P. Nickolai (BA) received his law degree from American University. For a number of years he was the Executive Vice President and General Counsel at Gateway Technical College in Racine, where he also served as interim president for a 2 ½ year period.

Brian O'Connell (BA) received an advanced degree from the School of Architecture and Urban Planning at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and is Director of City Development for Racine, Wisconsin.

Stuart Rosenberg (BA) earned a PhD in economics at Fordham University and is now associate professor of Management and Leadership at Dowling College in Oakdale, New York.

John J. Ruffino (BA) received his MA in public relations from American University. He was an aide to U.S. Senator Christopher J. Dodd of Connecticut and executive director of the University of Maryland Alumni Association International, Inc. He is executive director of the Northern Virginia Community College Educational Foundation.

Roland J. Steinle III (BA) is a judge in the Superior Court of Maricopa County, Arizona.

Wayne R. Stoltenberg (BA) has spent his career in the insurance industry. He was Sales Production Leader for HumanaOne, Vice President for Product Training and Vice President of Medicare Supplement at Fortis Health, and is now Vice President of Sales for Imerica Life and Health Insurance Company in Tampa, Florida.

James E. Tancula (BA) earned his law degree at the University of Chicago and has for a number of years been a partner in the law firm of Mayer Brown, where he has worked in the Los Angeles as well as the Houston office. He represents architects and engineers in alleged professional malpractice actions, and also acts on behalf of owners and architects/engineers in cases involving contract extras and delay claims.

Nicholas P. Tworischuk (BA) received his master's in public administration at Fairleigh Dickenson University and is the associate treasurer at the New Jersey Institute of Technology in Newark.

Bruce Webendorfer (BA) is Publications Unit Coordinator for the Environmental Resources Center at the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

John Weinfurter (BA) is president of Kimmit Senter Coates & Weinfurter, Inc., a lobbying and consulting firm in Washington, DC. Prior to his CELI position, Mr. Weinfurter spent 20 years as Chief of Staff to the late US Rep. John Joseph Moakley (D-Ma), who served in Congress from 1973-2001 and as Chairman of the US House of Representatives Committee on Rules from 1988-1994.

David Williams (BA) earned a Ph.D. in history from the University of New Hampshire in 1981 and a J.D. from Cornell University in 1984. He was a trial lawyer for the Appellate Division of the New York Legal Aid Society before forming the law firm of Sleigh and Williams in St. Johnsbury, Vermont.