History: The Sisters of Mercy established the Regional Community of Burlingame in 1854. In 2008, the community merged with several other communities that became the Sisters of Mercy of the Americas - West Midwest Community. The Regional Community of Burlingame Archives will remain in Burlingame for an undetermined length of time. In California, sisters from the Burlingame Community assisted in ministering to the Pomo Indians of St. Mary of the Angels Church, Ukiah, and the Mendocino County stations, 1876-1903.

Holdings of Catholic-related records about Native Americans are unknown.
