musg.mu.edu

A graphic design for "Senior Week 2009". It features a central horizontal bar with the text "Senior Week 2009" in a bold, white, sans-serif font. This bar is connected by thin white lines to several gray squares of varying sizes. These squares are arranged in a complex, overlapping pattern that resembles a circuit board or a network diagram. The background is black, making the white lines and text stand out.
