CHICAGO AREA CONSORTIUM IN GERMAN PHILOSOPHY
Marquette University, Milwaukee – March 7, 2014
WORKSHOP:

HEGEL

9:30-11:00  Session I
Chair: Rachel Zuckert (Northwestern University)
Speaker: Hank Southgate (University of Wisconsin, Madison):
         The Paradox of Irrationalism:
         The Logical Foundation of Hegel’s Philosophy of the Absurd
Commentator: Russell Newstadt (Loyola University, Chicago)

11:00-11:15: Coffee Break

11:15-12:45  Session II
Chair: Javier Ibáñez-Noé (Marquette University)
Speaker: Kevin Thompson (DePaul University):
         Objective Thoughts: Hegel on Justification and Systematicity
Commentator: Matthew M. Peters (Marquette University)

12:45-2:00  Lunch Break (a list of venues to be provided)

2:00-3:30:  Session III
Chair: Thomas Krell (DePaul University)
Speaker: Ardis Collins (Loyola University Chicago):
         Reason and its Absolute Opposite in Hegel’s Critical Examination of Phenomenal
         Consciousness: Challenging the Kantian Frame
Commentator: Shana Crandell (University of Chicago)

3:30-3:45:  Coffee Break

3:45-5:15:  Session IV
Chair: Margaret Atherton (University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee)
Speaker: William Bristow (University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee)
         Hegel’s Political Philosophy?
Commentator: Nicolás Garcia Mills (University of Illinois at Chicago)

Location: Haggerty Museum of Art, Marquette University, Milwaukee, WI.

Organized by Sebastian Luft for the Chicago Area Consortium in German Philosophy.

For more information, contact Sebastian Luft (Sebastian.Luft@Marquette.edu).