Course Objectives:

This course will explore the role of the media in American politics, especially the influence of the media on Americans’ political attitudes, beliefs, and behavior. Particular attention will be paid to the relationship between the media, the public, and government, including the formation of public policy. The course will also examine the historical evolution of the media’s role in politics and theories about its current practice and influence.

Upon completing the course students will be able to identify and explain the role of the media in a democratic society. Students will also be able to identify the main theories explaining the media’s influence on public opinion. In addition, students will be able to gather information from credible sources and express their ideas using clear, logical prose.

Required Books:

Other readings will be available on D2L.

Quizzes

There will be frequent quizzes on the reading material. The cumulative weight of quizzes is VERY significant for the final grade so staying current on class readings is worthwhile. Missed quizzes cannot be made up unless you have made arrangements PRIOR to the quiz date – no exceptions. Quizzes will be a mixture of T/F and short answer. Low quiz will be dropped.
News Analysis
Each student will be conducting a news analysis on an issue of their choice. This involves following media coverage of an issue in a variety of sources over a period of time, and writing an essay summarizing and analyzing your findings. Specific requirements will be distributed in class. Also, in addition to the hard copy of the essay that is turned in to the instructor, students are required to electronically submit their essays to D2L. The News Analysis is due Monday, November 21. Papers are marked down one letter grade for every day they are late.

Final Examination
Students must select two essay questions from a list of several. Essay questions will be comprehensive in addressing major issues and questions covering the entire semester. Any student who has a 94 or better average at the end of the semester will be exempt from the final exam.

Participation
Students are expected to do the readings before each class and contribute regularly to class discussion. Participation will be evaluated not simply on the quantity of class participation, but whether the participation reflects knowledge and understanding of course readings. Students are required to present one course reading during the semester. These will not be graded separately, but are considered an element of the participation grade.

Attendance
Attendance is expected at each class, and a sign-in sheet will be provided at each class meeting. Do NOT sign in for classmates if they are absent. Signing someone else’s name in their absence will be treated as academic dishonesty. If a student misses 6 or fewer classes during the semester attendance will not factor for the final grade at all. If a student misses more than 6 classes a grade of WA (Withdrawal-Excessive Absences) can be assigned.

The Marquette University Undergraduate Attendance Policy (revised in June 2011) states the following:

“Students are responsible for attending all class meetings for courses in which they are registered. Any absence, regardless of the reason, prevents students from getting the full benefit of the course and as such, no distinction is made between excused and unexcused absences, with the following exceptions:

1. Absences resulting from legal obligations (such as jury duty).
2. Absences resulting from university sanctioned activities and related travel.”

The Policy also states “the Marquette University Student Health Service does not provide documentation of illness, or of a visit to the Student Health Service. Likewise, college and other university offices (e.g., Office of the Dean, Counseling Center and Student Affairs) do not provide documentation of an absence on behalf of the student.”

In cases of excessive absences, the Marquette Undergraduate Attendance Policy will be followed. “For courses in which attendance is regularly taken, an instructor or college office may withdraw a student from a course due to excessive absences and assign a grade of WA (Withdrawn-Excessive Absences)...Students who miss more than 6 classes in a 3 credit course that meets 50 minutes, 3 times per week, will be considered to have excessive absences and may be assigned a WA.”
Those who are involved in university sanctioned activities should submit a schedule of anticipated absences within the first 2 weeks of class, and also come talk to the instructor well in advance of any other university sanctioned activity that will result in a missed assignment/quiz/exam.

Academic Dishonesty

Any incidents of academic dishonesty, such as cheating, dishonest conduct, or plagiarism will be punished to the fullest extent allowed by Marquette University policy.
