Course Objectives:

This course examines the development and practice of U.S. foreign policy from a historical and institutional perspective. The course will focus specifically on the various actors that influence foreign policy decisionmaking, including, but not limited to, institutional actors (executive, legislative, and judicial branches of government), interest groups, public opinion, and the media. These actors will be examined at several levels of analysis, such as political psychology, group dynamics, culture/national identity, and domestic politics.

Upon completing the course students will be able to explain the influence of the main U.S. foreign policy actors with respect to foreign policy decisions. Students will also be able to gather information from credible sources and be able to construct analytical arguments using clear, logical prose.

Required Books:

Other readings will be available on D2L.

Course Requirements:

- 8 quizzes: 30%
- Paper: 40 (5% bib, 15% draft and 20% finished paper)
- Final exam: 20
- Attendance/Participation: 10

Quizzes

There will be frequent quizzes on the reading material. The cumulative weight of quizzes is VERY significant for the final grade, so staying current on class readings is worthwhile. Missed quizzes cannot be made up unless you have made arrangements PRIOR to the quiz date – no exceptions. Nine quizzes will be administered. The lowest quiz grade will be dropped.
Paper
Students will research and write a paper advocating a foreign policy decision of their choice. Students will hand in an annotated bibliography (5%) and a draft (15%), as well as the finished paper (20%). All students in the class will participate in a peer review process, providing feedback to another student at the draft stage. A more specific description of the paper and requirements will be distributed in class.

Final Examination
There will be an in-class final exam. Any student who has an A grade at the end of the semester is exempt from the final exam. It cannot be borderline – it has to be a clear 93 or above.

Participation
Students are expected to do the readings before each class and contribute regularly to class discussion. Participation will be evaluated not simply on the quantity of class participation, but whether the participation reflects knowledge and understanding of course readings. Students should also keep up with foreign policy in a media source(s) of your choice.

Attendance
Attendance is expected at each class, and a sign-in sheet will be provided at each class meeting. Do NOT sign in for classmates if they are absent. Signing someone else’s name in their absence will be treated as academic dishonesty. If a student misses 6 or fewer classes during the semester attendance will not factor for the final grade at all. If a student misses more than 6 classes a grade of WA (Withdrawal-Excessive Absences) can be assigned.

The Marquette University Undergraduate Attendance Policy (revised in June 2011) states the following:

“Students are responsible for attending all class meetings for courses in which they are registered. Any absence, regardless of the reason, prevents students from getting the full benefit of the course and as such, no distinction is made between excused and unexcused absences, with the following exceptions:

1. Absences resulting from legal obligations (such as jury duty).
2. Absences resulting from university sanctioned activities and related travel.”

The Policy also states “the Marquette University Student Health Service does not provide documentation of illness, or of a visit to the Student Health Service. Likewise, college and other university offices (e.g., Office of the Dean, Counseling Center and Student Affairs) do not provide documentation of an absence on behalf of the student.”

In cases of excessive absences, the Marquette Undergraduate Attendance Policy will be followed. “For courses in which attendance is regularly taken, an instructor or college office may withdraw a student from a course due to excessive absences and assign a grade of WA (Withdrawn-Excessive Absences)...Students who miss more than 6 classes in a 3 credit course that meets 50 minutes, 3 times per week, will be considered to have excessive absences and may be assigned a WA.”
Those who are involved in university sanctioned activities should submit a schedule of anticipated absences within the first 2 weeks of class, and also come talk to the instructor well in advance of any other university sanctioned activity that will result in a missed assignment/quiz/exam.

Academic Dishonesty

Any incidents of academic dishonesty, such as cheating, dishonest conduct, or plagiarism will be punished to the fullest extent allowed by Marquette University policy.
