MINOR: Six different courses in Psychology (18 credit hours minimum), including PSYC 1/1001 and at least 3 upper division courses. To pursue Department of Public Instruction certification, College of Education students should follow the psychology minor by selecting the following courses. Twenty-six hours, including PSYC 1001, 2001, 2050, 3101, 3201, 3501, and 4801.

Elementary/Middle Education and Psychology double major requirements: PSYC 1001, PSYC 2001, PSYC 2050; three elective courses (one of which may be EDUC 4217, which is equivalent to PSYC 3130; and at least one upper division course from at least five of the following eight content areas: Developmental (3101 or 3120); Social (3201 or 3230); Cognitive Science (3301, 3320, or 4330); Assessment (3701 or 4701); History and Systems (4801); Personality Theories (3501); Biological (3601); and Abnormal (3401). PSYC 3101 (Developmental) is recommended as one content area because PSYC 3101 can be taken in place of EDUC 1220.

Middle/Secondary Education and Psychology double major requirements: PSYC 1001, PSYC 2001, PSYC 2050; PSYC 3101 (instead of EDUC 1220), PSYC 3201, PSYC 3301 or 3320, PSYC 3501, and PSYC 4801; and three electives, one of which may be EDUC 4217 (equiv. of PSYC 3130).

Nursing and Psychology double major requirements: Thirty-five hours including PSYC 1001, 2001 and 2050, and at least one course from at least five of the following eight content areas: Developmental (2101); Social (3201 or 3230); Cognitive Science (4330, 3301 or 3320); Assessment (3701 or 4701); History and Systems (4801); Personality Theories (3501); Biological (3601); and Abnormal (NURS 3500 and 3501). Double majors in Psychology and Nursing will receive 6 credits toward the psychology major (PSYC 3401 and 4964) by completion of NURS 3500 and 3501.

Notes:
At least 15 hours in the major and 9 hours in the minor must be completed at Marquette.
L.D. indicates LOWER DIVISION courses, numbering 1 to 99/1001 to 2199; U.D. indicates UPPER DIVISION courses, numbering 100 to 199/3101 to 4999.

College curriculum requirements also may be used to fulfill major/minor requirements and vice versa, but a course can fulfill only one College curriculum requirement.

CD grades or lower do not count toward 35-hour major minimum. A CD or D grade does fulfill the specific requirement (e.g, PSYC 60/2001), but the credits cannot be counted in the major. The Department recommends taking an additional course if a CD or D grade is obtained; however, the college also allows substitute repeats, which can be used if GPA is of concern.

Candidates for a degree must earn a minimum of 128 semester hours at a 2.0 average.
For graduation, a certain number of UPPER DIVISION HOURS are required. 42 U.D. hours for Majors in Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Computer Science and Physics. 48 U.D. hours for Majors in all other disciplines. 32 of these U.D. hours must be completed at Marquette.
