UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Summer 2013
Instructor: Eric Vanden Eykel
Course #: THEO 1001
Section: 102
Course Title: Introduction to Theology

Description:

This course is a prerequisite to all other courses in theology. Its aim is to increase religious literacy by means of an introduction to the history, texts, and theology of Jewish and Christian religious traditions. The course objectives (from the University Core of Common Studies) are as follows: 1) to describe theologically the basic content of the Catholic faith in relation to other Christian and religious traditions as well as other worldviews; 2) to interpret theological texts and frameworks in their historical contexts; and 3) to articulate implications of Christian faith for growth in holiness and the promotion of justice in the contemporary world.
