UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Spring 2012
Instructor: Robert B. Foster
Course #: THEO 1001
Section: 112
Course Title: Introduction to Theology

Description:

Theology is an intellectual practice that reflects on the Christian story of creation, fall, and redemption and explores the beliefs and practices corresponding to it. This course invites students to engage this story in a reasoned, thoughtful manner. It is composed of four sections: Old Testament / Hebrew Bible, New Testament, Christian History, and Christian Beliefs. The classes will combine lectures, open discussions, and in later weeks collaborative student presentations. No prior knowledge of the Bible or Christian Theology is required.
