UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Spring 2013
Instructor: D. Stephen Long
Course #: THEO 2530
Section: 101
Course Title: Theology and Economics

Description:

This course will situate the historical development of economics in relation to Protestant, Catholic and (briefly) Islamic teaching. It will also compare these theological approaches to the “worldview” produced by liberal, neoliberal, Keynesian, Weberian and Marxist teachings. The purpose of this course is to provide students with skills for a theological evaluation of economic theories and practices, particularly as they bear on the rise and ascendency of the global market. These skills will contribute to the pursuit of holiness and social justice.
