UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Spring 2010
Instructor: Dr. Sharon Pace
Course #: THEO 4030/5030
Section: 102/102
Course Title: Women in the Bible

Description:

Women in the Bible are portrayed in diverse ways. Some are remembered as famous ancestresses, some are renowned as heroines in Israel's ancient past, and others as survivors. These stories of faith, action, suffering, courage, wisdom, and silence parallel much of humanity's experience in modern society. Thus, these narratives should appeal to any student interested in exploring the Scriptures.

Required texts:

- Bible, any standard translation
