UNDERGRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Spring 2012
Instructor: Ralph Del Colle
Course #: THEO 4500/5500 (5500 component is restricted to graduate students)
Section: 101
Course Title: Christ and World Religions

Description:

The reality of global religious pluralism will be considered from a Christian perspective. We will aim at understanding the critical dimensions of a Christian theology of world religions. We will then examine several case studies of dialogue between Christian faith and another religious tradition, specifically Judaism, Islam and Buddhism.
