GRADUATE COURSE DESCRIPTION

Term: Fall 2011
Instructor: Robert Masson
Course #: THEO 6310
Course Title: Introduction to Systematic Theology

Content:
The course will introduce students to systematic theology through a careful study of Karl Rahner's Foundations of Christian Faith and key essays from his theological investigations. I am currently working on a book that will explicate the logic of Rahner's thought and make it more transparent along the lines suggested in my article: "Interpreting Rahner’s Metaphoric Logic," Theological Studies 71, no. 2 (2010) 380-409.

Format:
Lecture and discussion.

Assignments and/or Examinations:
- Abstracts of assigned readings, final paper.

Language Pre-requisites:
- None required, German helpful.
