

F A I H
JUSTICE

DOING

MARQUETTE'S MISSION WEEK 2008

Welcome to Mission Week 2008! This year marks the 100th birthday of the late Rev. Pedro Arrupe, S.J., Superior General of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) from 1965 to 1983. Father Arrupe, like his long-ago predecessor, Ignatius of Loyola, was a man of vision and conviction. His intellect, compassion and leadership combined in both obvious and subtle ways to create a powerful example of placing the poor and marginalized at the center of our concern. Father Arrupe's famous speech asserting the absolute priority of Jesuit education to be the formation of "[women and] men for others" is now the standard to which we hold ourselves accountable.

In the spirit of Father Arrupe, this year's Mission Week theme is Faith Doing Justice, reflecting our commitment to a Marquette education that integrates intellectual rigor, spiritual depth and concrete action for a more just and peaceful world. A wide selection of events has been designed to explore each of these important dimensions of Marquette, and we encourage you to take advantage of as many programs as possible. The success of Mission Week ultimately can be judged by the way God's spirit of Faith Doing Justice becomes evident in our own lives and work. Enjoy Mission Week 2008 as we explore that challenge!

Get your tickets to the Feb. 7 keynote event: CNN's Soledad O'Brien hosts a distinguished panel on "War, Peace and People of Faith."

Keynote tickets are available to Marquette students, faculty and staff beginning Jan. 22 in the Brooks Lounge, Alumni Memorial Union, First Floor. Available while supplies last. Limit two tickets per Marquette ID. Beginning Jan. 30, remaining tickets will be made available to the general public on a first-come, first-served basis.

Brooks Lounge hours:

Monday – Friday: Noon – 11:30 p.m.

Saturday – Sunday: 2 – 11:30 p.m.

Ongoing, Feb. 3–9

Online

Raynor Memorial Libraries have prepared a resource guide to support reading and discussion of Mission Week topics and keynote panelists, the service of faith and promotion of justice, war and peace, moral decision-making, and tools for personal discernment. The resource guide includes books, articles, DVDs, videos and Web sites. To explore these topics or integrate them into classroom discussion, go to marquette.edu/library/information/news/2008/MissionWeek.html

Project 288: Calling on the Mission

What luminary figures of faith and justice have left a lasting impression on Marquette? Whose voices linger on our campus long after they have gone? Hang onto your cell phone and look for the signs of speakers who have graced our university community over many decades. When you find one, call the 288- number on it to hear a brief selection from an inspiring speech in Marquette's proud past. Unable to leave your room or office to see the signs? Go to the Mission Week Web site (marquette.edu/missionweek) for a list of Project 288- extensions or to listen online. Sponsored by University Archives and the Instructional Media Center.

The Big Picture Collage Project

Do you have a photo of Marquette students, faculty, staff or alumni doing justice or service in the community? Send your digital photo through the Mission Week Web site (marquette.edu/missionweek) and help us create a collage of Marquette-in-service images in the AMU rotunda. Best photos will be displayed on the Office of Mission and Identity Web site (marquette.edu/missionweek).

Do You Remember? Explore Marquette's Fascinating Past

Through the courtesy of Milwaukee Public Television, Marquette is delighted to stream online an episode of the acclaimed series, I Remember. Hosted by our own Jim Peck, the program takes viewers on a whirlwind trip through the university's colorful history. Go to the Mission Week Web site (marquette.edu/missionweek) to connect. Participating in this Mission Week program is just a click away!

Reflecting on Faith Doing Justice

Looking for a little inspiration and connection with others? Watch for daily e-mailed Mission Week reflections written by members of the Marquette community. Sponsored by the Faber Center for Ignatian Spirituality.

Buy Your Faith Doing Justice T-shirt

Show your support for Mission Week 2008 by purchasing a shirt with this year's cool logo in the AMU rotunda, at the Office of Student Development or at University Ministry.

"The Grandeur of God": Photographs by Don Doll, S.J.

In conjunction with Rev. Don Doll's visit to Marquette as the Wade Scholar Lecturer for the spring semester, the Haggerty Museum of Art presents an exhibition of Doll's Native American images; panoramas along the Lewis and Clark Trail; Jesuits assisting refugees in Uganda, Sudan and Eastern Europe; landmine victims in Angola; and Tsunami survivors in India and Sri Lanka. Father Doll is a Jesuit priest and award-winning photographer whose work has been featured in National Geographic and a number of the Day in the Life of... books. He has photographed two books on Native Americans, Crying for a Vision and Vision Quest: Men, Women and Sacred Sites of the Sioux Nation. Exhibit runs through April 13. Sponsored by the Haggerty Museum of Art.

MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY

Be The Difference.

F A I T H DOING JUSTICE MARQUETTE'S MISSION WEEK '08

Sunday, Feb. 3

Mission Week Mass

4 p.m.

Gesu Church

Join Rev. Doug Leonhardt, S.J., associate director of University Mission and Identity and celebrant, at the opening liturgy of Mission Week 2008. Music for this prayerful community celebration will be provided by the University Ministry Liturgical Choir. Rev. Bryan Massingale, associate professor of theology, will join Father Leonhardt as the homilist.

Monday, Feb. 4

Faculty Commons

11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.

Raynor Library, Beaumier Conference Center (lower level)

Mission Week Faculty Commons offers faculty a time and place to share teaching, scholarship and research related to many dimensions of Marquette's mission. Faculty and graduate students are invited to stop in whenever and for as long as they are able. Each of the two days features a panel discussion on a different topic connected to Jesuit education and this year's Mission Week theme. Food is provided. Sponsored by the Manresa Project, the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs and the Center for Teaching and Learning. Don't miss these great speakers:

- Dr. Cesar Gonzalez, School of Dentistry, "Kids First: Preventive Dentistry in Urban Milwaukee Schools"
- Rev. Jeff LaBelle, S.J., School of Education, "No Immigrant Left Behind: Education for Inclusion"
- Dr. Amelia Zurcher, English Department,

“Sexual Violence on College Campuses”

- Dr. David Buckholdt, Center for Teaching and Learning, “Trinity Fellows: Educating for Leadership in Justice and Human Service”

Tuesday, Feb. 5

Soup with Substance

Noon-1 p.m.

AMU, Ballroom A

“Faith that Calls Me to Service”

Please join Marquette Law School Professor Andrea Schneider; Dr. Heather Hathaway, associate dean of the Klingler College of Arts and Sciences; and student Stephen Horras as they share stories about how living their faith has called them into the service of others. A simple meal of soup and bread will be served. Sponsored by University Ministry.

Faculty Commons

5-6:30 p.m.

Raynor Library Beaumier Conference Center (lower level)
(See Monday's description)

- Cheryl Coan, College of Professional Studies, “Diversity, Social Justice and the Core of Common Studies”
- Dr. Robert Masson, Department of Theology, “Bridging the Racial Divide”
- Dr. Ruth Ann Belknap, College of Nursing, “‘But I Just Wanted to Learn about Health’: Helping Students See the Connections Among Service, Justice and Health for All People”
- Dr. Louise Cainkar, Department of Social and Cultural Sciences, “How Community Organizing Saved a Chicago Mosque”

Wednesday, Feb. 6

(Ash Wednesday) —
Day of Alms

As we celebrate Mission Week at Marquette, Christians enter into the holy season of Lent, the forty days of preparation leading to the celebration of Easter. Lent begins today, Ash Wednesday, and its observance traditionally includes the practices of prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Non-Christian faith traditions, though not observing Lent, include almsgiving as an integral part of their beliefs as well. These alms are all given in the spirit of justice to our neighbor and it is therefore in this spirit that we invite all members of the Marquette community to a common “Day of Alms.” Monetary donations will be collected in residence halls, campus departments and dining facilities on this day, and all donations will be given to La Sagrada Familia, the Milwaukee Archdiocese’s sister parish in the Dominican Republic. The people of this region suffered more than $1 million in damages during Tropical Storm Noel.

Please see University Ministry's Web site (marquette.edu/um) and click on the La Sagrada Familia link for more information. Sponsored by University Ministry and the Office of Residence Life.

Masses and an ecumenical service of ashes will be held throughout the day (see marquette.edu/um for times and locations). The all-university Ash Wednesday liturgy will be at 8 p.m. at Gesu Church.

Roundtable Reflections: "Voices of Faith and Justice"

6 p.m.

AMU, Henke Lounge

Engage in a discussion with participants in the November vigil and protest of WHIN-SEC (formerly School of the Americas) at Fort Benning, Ga. Sponsored by the Marresa Project and Danihy Club (alumni of Alpha Sigma Nu).

Burleigh Media Ethics Lecture: Douglas McGill on "Journalism and the Ethics of Global Citizenship"

7 p.m.

Cudahy OO1

Douglas McGill is the creator of the blog "The McGill Report: Media for Global Citizens" (mcgillreport.org). He has worked for the New York Times and Bloomberg News in New York, London, Tokyo and Hong Kong. McGill is the author of Here: A Global Citizen's Journey. After a lifetime of acclaimed professional and personal achievements, McGill now empowers others by teaching basic journalism skills to citizens in community education classes in Minneapolis. Sponsored by the Diederich College of Communication.

Thursday, Feb. 7

Mission Week Keynote Event with Soledad O'Brien

4 p.m.

Varsity Theatre

Don't miss this vigorous exchange among concerned and knowledgeable individuals on the topic of "War, Peace and People of Faith." Soledad O'Brien of CNN will moderate the conversation during which four distinguished panelists will discuss how faith affects our decisions about dealing with conflict and injustice. Panelists include:

- Rev. Drew Christiansen, S.J., editor-in-chief of America magazine and former head of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' Office of International Justice and Peace;
- Dr. James Turner Johnson, professor of religion and associate member of the Graduate Department of Political Science at Rutgers University; author or editor of 14 books on the moral questions related to warfare;

- Rev. John Dear, S.J., former executive director of the Fellowship of Reconciliation (largest interfaith peace organization in the United States), renowned peace activist, and columnist for the National Catholic Reporter;
- Nicholas Coddington, former senior U.S. Army intelligence officer with NATO's Southern Region and senior officer deployed to Baghdad to establish the Iraqi Military Academy.

A reception and interactive Q&A session will follow in the AMU's Monaghan Ballroom.

Friday, Feb. 8

Stations of the Cross

Noon-1 p.m.

Chapel of the Holy Family

From early days, the followers of Jesus told the story of his passion, death and resurrection. Pilgrims who visited Jerusalem were anxious to follow in his footsteps and walk for themselves the way of the cross. The Stations of the Cross invite participants to make a prayerful pilgrimage along this symbolic path, recalling the suffering of Christ. Today we offer this pilgrimage for all victims of oppression and with a faith seeking to promote justice. Sponsored by the University Ministry Student Planning Team.

Saturday, Feb. 9

Homelessness in Our Heartland: An All-campus Community Service Project

10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Meet at the Multicultural Center Lounge, AMU 121; transportation provided to VETS Place Central, 3360 W. Wells

Gather members of your office, residence hall floor, academic department or student organization to make Faith Doing Justice real by volunteering and getting to know the community surrounding Marquette. Beginning with a service reflection, participants will be transported to the VETS Place Central to help prepare for a benefits information day and prepare a meal. Call 288-1412 to register. Sponsored by the Marquette Center for Community Service and Campus Kitchens.