CENTER FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE HUMANITIES - Office of the Director

To: Marquette University Faculty

Date: September 21, 2021

Subj: Call for Research Scholar Award Applications, 2022-23

From: Andrew Kim, Director

The CfAH Research Scholar Fund invites proposals for faculty engaged in interdisciplinary research that draws from and furthers the humanities. Projects across the entire range of the College's disciplines, the humanities, the natural/computational sciences and the social/behavioral sciences will be considered. Please refer to the attached CfAH Research Scholar Application for specific eligibility criteria.

The CfAH Faculty Initiatives Review Committee will review proposals. The Review Committee is made up of three senior faculty members. The Committee will evaluate the proposals and recommend awards based primarily on the promise of the project to significantly advance interdisciplinary humanistic research. The final decision for funding will be made by the CfAH Director in Consultation with the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.
