Themes from the Philosophical Scholarship of Sarah Broadie

Marquette University
Feb 20th-21st, 2020

Day 1 (February 20th)

9:30:
Mary Spencer Krizan
"Distinguishing Principles in Aristotle's Elemental Transformations"

11:30:
Aparna Ravilochan
"Following Broadie to a Revision of Natural Efficient Cause"

2:00:
Christopher Frey
"Plato and Aristotle on What Desires Form"

3:20:
Jessica Moss
"The Demiurge and the Philosopher-Kings"

4:50:
Naomi Reshotko
"Ananke in Plato's Timaeus"

Day 2 (February 21st)

9:00:
David Chan
"Choosing for the Sake of the Good"

10:30:
Edward Halper
"Grand Ends?"

11:50:
Christiana Olfert
"Deliberating About Practical Truth"

2:15:
Daniel Wolt
"What's Wrong with Spartan Virtue in Eudemian Ethics 8.3?"

February 23rd. Aquinas Lecture
3:00 PM Marquette Hall Room 100
Sarah Broadie
"Mathematics in Plato's Republic"

THE EVENT IS SUPPORTED BY THE MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY, FRIENDS OF PHILOSOPHY, THE HELEN WAY KLINGLER COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES OF MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY, AND THE ROJTMAN FOUNDATION LECTURE FUND