What should we do to promote economic opportunity and prosperity?

Wednesday, April 27th
12-1:30pm
Weasler Auditorium
Registration required

The pandemic laid bare several hidden truths about the U.S. labor market, raising questions and challenges for policymakers. As the economy recovers, who is getting left behind and why? How do we best prepare young people for tomorrow's economy? What has caused inflation to rise? The Marquette Civic Dialogues Program is thrilled to invite two influential voices in these policy debates to our campus. Join us for this lively discussion!

THURSDAY, APRIL 28 Commercial Banking Conference Climate Change: What are the risks, realities, and challenges? What you must know to prepare for this eventuality 9:00-11:00am virtually. Commercial Banks face a myriad of risks, especially in today's environment. Keeping track, mitigating, and managing risks has become a major focus of commercial banks internally. An emerging risk that has garnered the attention and focus of the regulatory environment is Climate Risk, and all that it entails. Regulators are now poised to include this risk in its examination routines, at least for banks over $100 billion in assets. However, with the emergence of this focus, the writing is on the wall that Climate Risk will become a challenge for all banks, as has been the history with other risks. Get ahead of the curve by joining this "thought-provoking" and informative conference to plan and prepare for this for the future. Register now.
