- A four-year bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university, with a major in accounting or equivalent undergraduate course work
- Students admitted without sufficient undergraduate accounting coverage may be required to successfully complete the following undergraduate courses: cost accounting, intermediate accounting, advanced accounting, auditing, U.S taxation, and accounting information systems.
- An acceptable record of academic achievement at the bachelor's level and in any previous graduate course work
- Acceptable scores on the GMAT or GRE

*For those pursuing the M.S.A. degree with insufficient undergraduate course work in accounting, 15-21 credits of undergraduate accounting course work or a combination of undergraduate and foundation graduate level course work may be required.

Specific undergraduate or graduate foundation course work is determined on a case-by-case basis at the time of admission.

Bachelor's – Master's Program

This five-year program allows students to earn both their undergraduate and M.S.A. degrees in five years. Undergraduate students begin their graduate work senior year by taking two graduate level courses, which double-count toward the undergraduate and graduate degrees.

Should a student not be admitted to the M.S.A. program, courses will be counted toward the undergraduate degree only. Upon completion of the first term as a master's candidate, the student must petition the director of the M.S.A. program to transfer courses taken as an undergraduate to the master's level. Students must earn a B or better to transfer the course into the M.S.A. program. Students double-counting courses must complete the appropriate paperwork with the Graduate School of Management, obtaining consent from the instructor, adviser, department chairperson and the Graduate School of Management. Get forms at the Graduate School of Management Web site at www.marquette.edu/gsm and complete them prior to the start of class.

To be considered for admission to the five-year program, applicants must formally apply to the Graduate School of Management during their senior year at Marquette University, complete all of application requirements and indicate on their application that they are applying for the five-year program.
