The Librarian is in…

Ask us about:

- Deciding the level of librarian involvement (if at all!)
- Designing assignments using library resources
- Finding library materials or OER options
- Creating/Inserting permalinks
- Purchasing materials for class
- Advising on basic copyright questions/concerns
Copyright Basics

- Marquette takes a conservative viewpoint of copyright → link to library materials

- Remember PANE (Fair Use)
  - Purpose
  - Amount (10% is a myth!)
  - Nature of Work
  - Economic Impact

- We can only advise on risks, we’re not lawyers

- Accessibility goes hand in hand with copyright
Online Class Materials

Why use online resources from the library?

- Engagement on day one
- Cost effective for students
- Accessible features
- Fewer copyright considerations

eBooks and Streaming Video Options

- Find in catalog or databases
- Request form to purchase
- Able to insert permalink or embed video in D2L
- Limitations lead to opportunities
A la Carte Workshops

Offered at beginner to low-intermediate levels, these are available as one-on-one sessions or group workshops. Many have been converted to asynchronous online workshops through D2L. Request a workshop or consultation. For questions or more information, contact Elizabeth Gibes, Digital Scholarship Librarian, elizabeth.gibes@mu.edu. A full listing of offerings below.

WORKING WITH DATA

Data Management Basics

Learn about the basics of data management plans, repositories, supporting documentation, and funder mandates. Instructors: Heather James, Katie Blank

Data Visualization for Beginners

Get started with data visualization, including an overview of data cleaning best practices as well as platforms and programs for creating beautiful visualizations.

Customized Course Instruction

Digital Scholarship Lab staff can help you envision a digital assignment for your class. We help identify tools and resources for your students and offer in-class instruction. Request a workshop for your class or a consultation to discuss potential assignments.

Dedicated in-lab workdays with technical assistance are available for all classes. Reserve days for your class to meet in the lab, work with software and equipment with immediate technical assistance. Reserve Lab Space

GETTING STARTED WITH DIGITAL PROJECTS

If you are assigning a digital project, contact the Digital Scholarship Lab for instruction and support in project planning and introductory concepts.

- Citation style/citation management program help
- Course specific: “trailblazers” in chemistry literature, data and statistics for infographics, zip code level data project, DS Lab
What could that actually look like?

- Academic Library Research 101 Interactive Module
- BUSI Course Guide
- CLLS asynchronous lesson plan
- ENGL 1001 - Fall 2020
Things to Consider

- Your liaison librarian should be your first point of contact

- Librarians work with the library's Technical Services Dept to purchase materials – please be patient and gentle!

- One Size Does Not Fit All – and that’s good!
