THINGS TO SEE

Museums and Galleries

Canadian Center for Architecture (CCA) The Canadian Centre for Architecture is an international research institution operating from the fundamental premise that architecture is a public concern with the specific aim of increasing public awareness of the role of architecture in contemporary society and promoting research in the field.

La Guilde La Guilde is across the street from the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts featuring Inuit and Native Art. Exhibitions showcase the history of the Inuits and their contribution to Canadian culture.

Museum of Masters and Artisans of Quebec The Museum of Masters and Artisans of Quebec highlights the ingenuity and creativity of the creators and craftsmen of traditional and contemporary handmade objects in Quebec.

The Darling Foundry The Darling Foundry is a visual art center supporting the creation, production, and dissemination of contemporary artworks.

Phi Phi is a multidisciplinary arts and culture organization that cultivates all aspects of creation, development, production and dissemination. Phi is at the intersection of art, film, music, design and technology. Through eclectic programming and a strong emphasis on content creation, Phi fosters unexpected encounters between artists and audiences.

Pierre-François Ouellette Art Contemporain Pierre-François Ouellette art contemporain (PFOAC) is a commercial, contemporary art gallery committed to photo-based work, drawing, sculpture, installation art and related works on paper by a diverse group of multidisciplinary artists. It is located one block west of the Musée d'art contemporain in downtown Montréal.

Château Dufresne
Built between 1915 and 1918 to serve as a residence for the Oscar and Marius Dufresne brothers, Château Dufresne puts into practice the principles of Beaux-Arts architecture, a style much appreciated by the French-Canadian bourgeoisie of the time for its monumentality and elegance.

Housing two separate residences, the residence des Dufresne offers many surprises to visitors about the variety of styles, materials used and modern domestic facilities. From small to large lounges, entrance halls to the oriental smoking room, work desks at the Winter Gardens, each room of the two residences is treated in a different style, depending on the function and the atmosphere that the owners wanted to give him.

Galerie Art Mûr
Art Mûr is a highly respected and dynamic gallery in Montreal and has become a required stop for curators, critics, and collectors. Founded in 1996, Art Mûr is one of the largest private galleries in Canada - with seven exhibition rooms totaling 14,000 square feet. Well-known for its programming, Art Mûr plays an important role in the Canadian visual arts scene. The gallery represents over thirty artists, with practices ranging from painting and sculpture to new media and performance art.

Galerie Roger Bellemare
Galerie Roger Bellemare represents contemporary artists. The works presented, figurative or abstract, tend towards a minimalist approach. Historical works (Barbeau, Gaucher, Leduc, Molinari, etc.) within its inventory also participate in this approach. A few times a year, historical and contemporary works are exhibited together for a richness of senses and perception. Some of the artists represented are Ulysse Comtois, Guido Molinari, Marcel Broodthaers, Michael Merrill, John Heward.

Gallery LUZ
Luz is an independent gallery dedicated to promoting and disseminating contemporary works of art, with focus on emerging and professional Canadian and international artist. Located at Montreal's downtown art center the Belgo building, St. Catherine Street. Gallery Luz offers works by Hannah Franklin, Marc Ledoux, Pierre Tousignant, Leopold L. Foulem, Niane Naiane, Béatrice Sokoloff.

Galerie Elca London
Galerie Elca London was founded in 1960 with the goal of promoting excellence in contemporary Canadian art. During the mid 1960’s the focus was broadened to include the art of Canada’s North. By the end of the 1980’s the scope and quality of our Inuit art collection began to demand our full attention. In March of 2007 we relocated to new quarters in historic Old Montreal.

Galerie LeRoyer
Established in old Montreal, Galerie LeRoyer has made its home in a historical Neo-Gothic building dating from 1887 and designed by architect John James Browne (1837-1893), which served as a textile and dry goods warehouse store for Greenshields, Hodgson, Racine Limited until the late 1960s. Brian Brisson, the gallery’s founder, has conserved the interior’s period charm, with its cabinets of curiosities, mouldings, bas-reliefs and high ceilings. This space allows him to stage his vision and exhibit the works of emerging Canadian and international artists chosen for the power of their singularity.

Landau Fine Art
Opened in 1987 to critical acclaim in the gracious row of greystones known as Passage du Musée. Focused primarily on the great masters of the early to mid twentieth century such as Picasso, Dubuffet, Léger, Giacometti, Jawlensky, Moore and Van Dongen.
