An explanation of benefits (EOB) is not a bill. It simply tells you everything you might want to know about your claims.

Among the more important things included on your EOB are:

- The service you received
- How much the service cost
- How much you may owe, if anything
- A notes section that explains the meaning of any special codes

There is a second page that includes contact numbers if you have questions. It also tells you how to file an appeal if you want a claim decision reviewed.
