Life insurance is a cost-effective way to protect your loved ones. Should something unforeseen happen to you, it helps ensure that short- and long-term financial obligations could be met. If you have a spouse or domestic partner, if you have children, they may rely on you to help keep the household running. Paying the mortgage or providing for a child’s college education could become more difficult.

Term life insurance gives your loved ones a lump sum payment. This would help them be financially prepared to better handle expenses like:

- Mortgage or rent payments
- Utilities
- Insurance premiums
- Childcare/education fees
- Transportation
- Credit card bills

A premature death is likely to exert a major or devastating impact on financial security, lifestyle and general savings.¹

- $250,000 in coverage — estimated cost $13–$20 per month³
  - That’s a movie ticket and popcorn!⁴

- $500,000 in coverage — estimated cost $25–$40 per month³
  - That’s one month at a fitness center!⁴

The advantages of getting life insurance through work:

- Competitive group rates
- Convenient payroll deductions
- Easy access to enrollment
- Educational tools to help you decide how much insurance is right for you

The tax advantage

Your beneficiaries typically won’t need to pay income tax on the payments they receive.⁵

Consider this scenario:

My mother passed away when she was only 49. Despite our devastation, my brother and I were able to continue our education because she planned ahead and bought life insurance. That’s why my husband and I decided to buy a policy after the birth of our sons. We want them to be financially secure if anything were to happen to us.”

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. What is a beneficiary?

A. The person you choose to receive the life insurance proceeds should something happen to you. It’s possible to have multiple beneficiaries and you can update them regularly should your circumstances or needs change.

Q. I already have basic life insurance through my employer, why do I need more?

A. While having life insurance provided by your employer is a great benefit, it’s possible that it may not be enough to adequately provide for your loved ones. Additional life insurance can give them greater financial security if you are no longer here to earn a paycheck.

Q. How much life insurance do I need?

A. Everyone is different, but it may be more than you have now. The insurance you need changes as your life changes — for example, getting married, starting a family or buying a home may change the coverage you need. Many people are surprised to learn that they may not have enough life insurance to cover the many expenses their loved ones may face.

Q. How much will it cost?

A. It may be less expensive than you think. MetLife’s group life insurance plans are a cost-effective way for you to provide for your loved ones with competitive group rates and a wide range of coverage options to choose from. Exact rates can be found in the enrollment materials provided by your employer.

Q. How do I pay for my coverage?

A. Premiums are conveniently paid through payroll deductions, so you don’t have to worry about writing a check or missing a payment.

Q. How are claims paid?

A. A claim needs to be filed with the life insurance company upon the death of the insured. A tax-free death benefit is paid in a single lump-sum to your chosen beneficiary or beneficiaries.5

Life coverages are provided under a group insurance policy (Policy Form GPNP99) issued to your employer by MetLife. Life coverages under your employer’s plan terminates when your employment ceases, when your Life contributions cease, or upon termination of the group insurance policy. Dependent Life coverage will terminate when a dependent no longer qualifies as a dependent. Should your life insurance coverage terminate, for reasons other than non-payment of premium, you may convert it to a MetLife individual permanent policy without providing medical evidence of insurability.

MetLife Group Term Life Insurance is issued by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10166 under Policy Form GPNP99.
