Full-time Adjunct Instructor/Adjunct Assistant Professor (Spring 2020)

The Department of Mathematical and Statistical Sciences at Marquette University seeks to hire a full-time non-tenure track faculty positions for the Spring 2020 semester. Applicants should possess at least a masters degree in mathematics or a related field a Ph.D. is preferred. The Department seeks candidates with a strong commitment to teaching and the ability to teach undergraduate mathematics and/or statistics courses. Outstanding communication skills are essential, and the ability to teach in a large lecture setting is a plus. The ideal candidate will contribute to the teaching mission and research mission of the Department.

The teaching load is expected to be 3-4 sections, depending on class size. Teaching responsibilities include class preparation, assigning readings and homework, grading exams and papers, assigning midterm and final grades, and holding at least 3 regularly scheduled office hours per week.

Marquette University, an equal opportunity employer that values diversity, is a Catholic Jesuit university routinely listed among the countrys top universities renowned for academic rigor, innovation and achievements of its community of scholars. Across 10 colleges, Marquette offers a choice of 83 undergraduate majors, 81 minors, 68 doctoral and masters degrees, 22 graduate certificate programs, and a School of Dentistry and Law School. More information is available at http://www.marquette.edu. We seek candidates who can contribute to the university mission, which can be found at http://www.marquette.edu/about/mission.php. Candidates from underrepresented groups are particularly welcome.

All applications for this position must be received through Marquette Universitys electronic recruitment system, which can be accessed at https://employment.marquette.edu/postings/12419

Formal review of applicants will begin on October 28, 2019, and will continue until the position is filled.