February 1 – 6
Celebrate Marquette’s Mission Week 2005
Excellence ▼ Faith ▼ Leadership ▼ Service

Arun Gandhi
Grandson of Mohandas K. Gandhi
will speak on
“Lessons My Grandfather Taught Me”

Office of University Mission and Identity
www.marquette.edu/missionweek/
(414) 288-1881

Thursday, February 3
Faculty Commons
Raynor Conference Center
See Tuesday’s description.

9 a.m.
Professor Scott Idelme, Law School, Law and Religion

10 a.m.
Michelle Schuh, Department of Physical Therapy, and Dr. Daniel Zitomer, Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, International Service Learning and the Jesuit Mission

11 a.m.
Dr. Daniel Sem, Department of Chemistry, Science in Service to Society: Lessons from the Biotech Industry

1 p.m.
Dr. Sarah Bonewits, Department of Communication Studies, Living Our Mission: An Ethnographic Study of University Mission-Building

2 p.m.
Rev. Thomas Hughson, S.J., Department of Theology, and Dr. Janice Staral, Department of Social and Cultural Sciences, Faith, Justice & Social Change: Co-teaching a Course Across Disciplines

3 p.m.
Finish the week with a Wine and Cheese Gathering with Provost Madeline Wake

10 p.m.
Late Night Marquette
Join in the fun of a Late Night Marquette event. For more details see the Late Night Marquette Web site: http://latenight.marquette.edu/

Friday, February 4
12:30-12:55 p.m. • Peace Begins with Me: Retreats into Campus
AMU, Chapel of The Holy Family
See Tuesday’s description.

4 p.m. • Keynote Speech
Lessons My Grandfather Taught Me
Arun Gandhi, Founder, M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence

Vessey Theatre
After intense racism in apartheid South Africa filled Arun Gandhi with rage, his parents sent him to India to stay with his grandfather, legendary peacemaker and spiritual leader Mohandas K. Gandhi, also known as Mahatma Gandhi. Eighteen months with his grandfather armed the younger Gandhi with the powerful philosophy of nonviolence that helped shape his life’s work. Since then he has led several successful projects for economic and social reform in India and, together with his wife Sananda, founded the M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence. Come and listen to his fascinating story!

5 p.m. • Arun Gandhi Reception
AMU, Ballroom Room A, B, E

7 p.m. • Interfaith Service
AMU, Henke Lounge
Participate in a joint prayer service, that includes a variety of traditions, to pray for peace in our broken world.

Saturday, February 5
12-1 p.m. • Forgiveness on the Path to Constructing Peace
Cudahy, 001
Three College of Professional Studies students share their research and reflections, focusing on applying truth and reconciliation to current international conflicts. Followed by a simple lunch of soup and bread. Sponsored by the College of Professional Studies.

Sunday, February 6
4 p.m. • Closing Liturgy
Gesu Church
In celebration of our Catholic, Jesuit identity, all are welcome to gather as a university community with President Robert A. Wild, S.J. As a Christian institution we faithfully reflect upon how we can become Christ in the world for the entire human community, particularly in light of this year’s Mission Week theme of “Constructing Peace.”
Welcome to Mission Week - Each February the Marquette community comes together to reflect on our university’s Catholic, Jesuit mission: “the search for truth, the discovery and sharing of knowledge, the fostering of personal and professional excellence, the promotion of a life of faith, and the development of leadership expressed in service to others.” Mission Week is the time we set aside to reflect the larger purpose and the Ignatian heritage and spirituality that guide us through the year.

The theme of Mission Week 2005, “Constructing Peace,” which calls us through the mission of Marquette to engage in interreligious dialogue and build a better world. All Mission Week events are free and open to the Marquette community. Some events are open to the public, as noted.

Mission Week 2005:

Tuesday, February 1

11:30 a.m. – 1 p.m. Mission Week Kickoff

AMU, Various locations

Natyarpuna School of Indian Dance

Marquette Place

Founded by Marquette graduate student Kripa Baskaran to promote understanding of Indian culture and values through the art of Bharatnatyam, this dance group combines self-esteem, grace and poise with rhythm and coordination.

Expand Your Palate

Experience the taste of another culture: all Sodexo dining rooms in the summer of Indian fare today for your enjoyment!

Habitat Tool Drive

Buy new tools for Milwaukee Habitat for Humanity as they construct peace near our own Marquette neighborhood. To make it easy, W.W. Grainger Inc. will be on hand at the AMU with tools for sale on Feb. 1 and 2. Take your tool donations to collection barrels at the AMU, second floor, or to the Raynor Library; Cash donations will also be accepted. Tool drive runs through Friday, Feb. 4th. Sponsored by Facilities Services.

Toolbox Exhibit

Lynch Lounge

View the creative energy of student organizations — including the top three winners — that decorated wooden toolboxes, incorporating the university’s mission and this year’s Mission Week theme, “Constructing Peace.” All toolboxes will be donated to Habitat for Humanity. Sponsored by the Office of Student Development.

Portals of Peace

Enjoy a tour of Marquette’s office and residence hall doorsways, decorated for Mission Week, with a team of tour guides who build the community. They construct peace near our own Marquette neighborhood.

Essay Contest

AMU, Second Floor Lobby

How are you called to construct peace in our community and world? Marquette students are invited to answer this question in essays on this subject. Winning entries are displayed for you to read and enjoy.

Visit the Faculty Commons Shadow Box Conference Center

The Mission Week Faculty Commons gives faculty a time and place to share teaching, scholarship and research related to Marquette’s mission. All faculty and graduate students are invited to frequent the commons throughout the week. Each hour features a different faculty colleague discussing the intersection of his/her teaching and research with topics such as spirituality, justice, mission, service, vocations and faith. Sponsored by the Manresa Project and the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs.

Wednesday, February 2

9 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. What If We Leave All the Children Behind? The Challenge of Teaching in the New Millennium

AMU, Ballroom B

Current federal legislation implies schools to leave child behind. However, the current social, economic and political contexts in which our children live make it likely that many will be forgotten. Gloria Ladson-Billings, Kellner Family Professor of Urban Education at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will address the broader civic mission of schooling and what educators must do to keep the promise of all children. Sponsored by the School of Education, Office of the Provost and Teachers for Social Justice.

Faculty Commons

Raynor Conference Center

See Tuesday’s description.

9 a.m.

Dr. Javier Iñátez-Noi, Department of Philosophy, Morality and Vocation

10 a.m.

Dr. David Buckholdt, Center for Teaching and Learning, and Dr. Patrick Carey, Department of Theology, Vision and Mission Seminar – Faculty Seminar in Catholic Higher Education

11 a.m.

Dr. Joseph Daniels, Department of Economics, Religion and Economics

12 p.m. (lunch will be served)

Dr. Margaret Bloom, Vice Provost for Undergraduate Programs and Teaching, Open Forum about Mission, Teaching and Research

1 p.m.

Dr. Michael Duffey, Department of Theology, Contemporary Disciples – Student-Produced Videos

2 p.m.

Dr. Albert Ahena, School of Dentistry, Service with a Smile

3 p.m.

For updates, go to the Mission Week Web site at www.marquette.edu/missionweek/ or call the Office of University Mission and Identity at 288-1881.

Welcome to Mission Week - Each February the Marquette community pauses to reflect on our university’s Catholic, Jesuit mission: “the search for truth, the discovery and sharing of knowledge, the fostering of personal and professional excellence, the promotion of a life of faith, and the development of leadership expressed in service to others.” Mission Week is the time we set aside to recall our larger purpose and the Ignatian heritage and spirituality that guide us throughout the year.

The theme of Mission Week 2005 is “Constructing Peace,” which calls us through the mission of Marquette to engage in interreligious dialogue and build a better world. All Mission Week events are free and open to the Marquette community. Some events are open to the public, as noted.

Mission Week 2005

Tuesday, February 1

11:30 a.m. – 1 p.m. Mission Week Kickoff
AMU, Various locations
Natyarpans School of Indian Dance
Marquette Place
Founded by Marquette graduate student Kripa Baskaran to promote understanding of Indian culture and values through the art of Bharatnatyam, this dance group combines self-esteem, grace and poise with rhythm and coordination.

Expand Your Palate
Experience the taste of another culture: all Sodexo dining rooms will feature Indian fare today for your enjoyment!

Habitat Tool Drive
Buy new tools for Milwaukee Habitat for Humanity as they construct peace near our own Marquette neighborhood. To make it easy, W.W. Grainger Inc. will be on hand at the AMU with tools for sale on Feb. 1 and 2. Take your tool donations to collection barrels at the AMU, second floor, or to the Raynor Library. Cash donations will also be accepted. Tool drive runs through Friday, Feb. 4th. Sponsored by Facilities Services.

Toolbox Exhibit
Lynch Lounge
View the creative energy of student organizations — including the top three winners — that decorated wooden toolboxes, incorporating the university’s mission and this year’s Mission Week theme, “Constructing Peace.” All toolboxes will be donated to Habitat for Humanity. Sponsored by the Office of Student Development.

Portals of Peace
Enjoy a tour of Marquette’s office and residence hall doorways and the Center for Teaching and Learning. A cadre of creative students designed a bookmark with the Mission Week theme of “Constructing Peace.” First-place winner receives $300, second place $150, and third place $50. First-place design will be reproduced for university distribution in the fall of 2005. Winners announced during Mission Week. Sponsored by the Marquette National Alumni Board.

Architects of Peace Photo Exhibit
AMU, Second Floor Lobby
View 12 works by internationally known photographer Michael Colloly. Colloly documents the images and visions of some of the world’s great peace makers — spiritual leaders, politicians, scientists, artists and activists. Through their portraits and words, Architects of Peace convey hopes, visions of culture and opinion can be united through a central goal of peace.

Anu Gandhi Speech Tickets
Get your free tickets for keynote speaker Anu Gandhi, available at Brooks Lounge, AMU first floor. Tickets available to the Marquette community through Feb. 3. Limit of four tickets per person.

Essay Contest
AMU, Second Floor Lobby
How are you called to construct peace in our community and world? Marquette students answered this question in essays on this subject. Winning entries are displayed for you to read and enjoy.

Visit the Faculty Commons
Raynor Conference Center
The Mission Week Faculty Commons gives faculty a time and place to share teaching, scholarship and research related to Marquette’s mission. All faculty and graduate students are invited to frequent the commons throughout the week. Each hour features a different faculty colleague discussing the intersection of his/her teaching and research with topics such as spirituality, justice, education, service, vocations and faith. Sponsored by the Manresa Project, the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs and the Center for Teaching and Learning.

9 a.m.
Dr. Rebecca Nowack, Department of English, Writing, Reading, and Vocation: A Manresa Version of Advanced Composition

10 a.m.
Dr. Mary Ann Lough and Dr. Christine Shaw, College of Nursing, Reaching out to the Underserved: The Marquette Clinic for Women and Children

11 a.m.
Professor Scott Ildeman, Law School, Law and Religion

1 p.m.
Dr. Paula Gilliespie, Writing Center, Department of English, The Peer Tutor Alumni Research Project

2 p.m.
Dr. John Karkheck, Department of Physics, and Dr. Jaree Schaefer, Department of Theology, “On The Origins of the Universe”

12:30-12:55 p.m. Peace Begins with Me: Retreats into Campus
AMU, Chapel of The Holy Family
The rhythm and practice of peace begins with the individual. We will learn the value of contemplation and meditation through the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius. Priests from Mission Week will conclude their week’s work with a sharing of breads from around the world. Sponsored by University Ministry.

3:30-5 p.m. Third Annual Mission Week Symposium: Leaders Who Make a Difference in the Healthcare Field
AMU, Second Floor Lobby
This year’s featured speaker is Cordelia Taylor, founder of The Family House, a crisis-centred ministry and residential facility in Milwaukee, serving homeless service and disabled adults. Long a national model for providing long-term care, The Family House extends its mission to children, young mothers and others in our community. Sponsored by the College of Health Sciences.

4:30 p.m. What If We Leave All the Children Behind? The Challenge of Teaching in the New Millennium
AMU, Ballroom B
Current federal legislation implies schools to leave children behind. However, the current social, economic and political contexts in which our children live make it likely that many will be forgotten. Gloria Ladson-Billings, Kellner Family Professor in Urban Education at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will address the broader civic mission of schooling and what educators must do to fulfill the promise of all children. Sponsored by the School of Education, Office of the Provost and Teachers for Social Justice.

Wednesday, February 2

Faculty Commons
Raynor Conference Center
See Tuesday’s description.

9 a.m.
Dr. Javier Ibáñez-Noi, Department of Philosophy, Morality and Vocation

10 a.m.
Dr. David Buckholdt, Center for Teaching and Learning, and Dr. Patrick Carey, Department of Theology, Vision and Mission Seminar – Faculty Seminar in Catholic Higher Education

11 a.m.
Dr. Joseph Daniels, Department of Economics, Religion and Economics

12 p.m.
( luncheon will be served)
Dr. Margaret Bloom, Vice Provost for Undergraduate Programs and Teaching, Open Forum about Mission, Teaching and Research

1 p.m.
Dr. Michael Duffey, Department of Theology, Contemporary Disciples – Student-Produced Videos

2 p.m.
Dr. Albert Ahena, School of Dentistry, Service with a Smile

3 p.m.

For updates, go to the Mission Week Web site at www.marquette.edu/missionweek or call the Office of University Mission and Identity at 288-1881.

February 1 – 6
Celebrate Marquette’s Mission Week 2005

Friday, February 3
Faculty Commons
Raynor Conference Center
See Tuesday’s description.

9 a.m.
- Dr. Terry Burant, School of Education, Imagine That: An Ignatian Perspective on Using Imagery in Teaching

10 a.m.
- Michelle Schuh, Department of Physical Therapy, and Dr. Daniel Zitomer, Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, International Service Learning and the Jesuit Mission

11 a.m.
- Dr. Daniel Sem, Department of Chemistry, Science in Service to Society: Lessons from the Biotech Industry

1 p.m.
- Dr. Sarah Bonevits, Department of Communication Studies, Living Our Mission: An Ethnographic Study of University Mission-Building

2 p.m.
- Rev. Thomas Hughson, S.J., Department of Theology, and Dr. Janice Staral, Department of Social and Cultural Sciences, Faith, Justice & Social Change: Co-teaching a Course Across Disciplines

12:30-12:55 p.m. • Peace Begins with Me: Retreats into Campus
AMU, Chapel of The Holy Family
See Tuesday’s description.

4 p.m. • Keynote Speech
Lessons My Grandfather Taught Me
Arun Gandhi, Founder, M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence
Varsity Theatre
After intense racism in apartheid South Africa filled Arun Gandhi with rage, his parents sent him to India to stay with his grandfather, legendary peacemaker and spiritual leader Mohandas K. Gandhi, also known as Mahatma Gandhi. Eighteen months with his grandfather armed the younger Gandhi with the powerful philosophy of nonviolence that helped shape his life’s work. Since then he has led several successful projects for economic and social reform in India and, together with his wife Sunanda, founded the M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence. Come and listen to his fascinating story!

5 p.m. • Arun Gandhi Reception
AMU, Ballroom Room A, B, E
7 p.m. • Interfaith Service
AMU, Henke Lounge
Participate in a joint prayer service, that includes a variety of traditions, to pray for peace in our broken world.

Saturday, February 4

12:30-12:55 p.m. • Peace Begins with Me: Retreats into Campus
AMU, Chapel of The Holy Family
See Tuesday’s description.

Faculty Commons
Raynor Conference Center
See Tuesday’s description.

3 p.m.
- Finish the week with a Wine and Cheese Gathering with Provost Madeline Wake

10 p.m.
Late Night Marquette
Join in the fun of a Late Night Marquette event. For more details see the Late Night Marquette Web site: http://lannight.marquette.edu/

Sunday, February 5

12-1 p.m. • Forgiveness on the Path to Constructing Peace
Cudahy, 001
Three College of Professional Studies students share their research and reflections, focusing on applying truth and reconciliation to current international conflicts. Followed by a simple lunch of soup and bread. Sponsored by the College of Professional Studies.

4 p.m. • Closing Liturgy
Gesu Church
In celebration of our Catholic, Jesuit identity, all are welcome to gather as a university community with President Robert A. Wild, S.J. As a Christian institution we faithfully reflect upon how we can become Christ in the world for the entire human community, particularly in light of this year’s Mission Week theme of “Constructing Peace.”

Office of University Mission and Identity
www.marquette.edu/missionweek/
(414) 288-1881

Arun Gandhi
Grandson of Mohandas K. Gandhi
will speak on
“Lessons My Grandfather Taught Me”
2005 Marquette's Mission Week

Celebrate Marquette’s Mission Week 2005
February 1 – 6

Arun Gandhi
Grandson of Mohandas K. Gandhi
will speak on
“ Lessons My Grandfather Taught Me”

Office of University Mission and Identity
www.marquette.edu/missionweek/
(414) 288-1881

Thursday, February 3
Faculty Commons
Raynor Conference Center
See Tuesday’s description.

9 a.m.
Dr. Terry Burant, School of Education, Imagine That: An Ignatian Perspective on Using Imagery in Teaching

10 a.m.
Michelle Schuh, Department of Physical Therapy, and Dr. Daniel Zitomer, Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering,International Service Learning and the Jesuit Mission

11 a.m.
Dr. Daniel Sem, Department of Chemistry, Science in Service to Society: Lessons from the Biotech Industry

1 p.m.
Dr. Sarah Bonewits, Department of Communication Studies, Living Our Mission: An Ethnographic Study of University Mission-Building

2 p.m.
Rev. Thomas Hughson, S.J., Department of Theology, and Dr. Janice Staral, Department of Social and Cultural Sciences, Faith, Justice & Social Change: Co-teaching a Course Across Disciplines

12:30-12:55 p.m. • Peace Begins with Me: Retreats into Campus
AMU, Chapel of The Holy Family
See Tuesday’s description.

4 p.m. • Keynote Speech
Lessons My Grandfather Taught Me
Arun Gandhi, Founder, M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence
Vesey Theatre
After intense racism in apartheid South Africa filled Arun Gandhi with rage, his parents sent him to India to stay with his grandfather, legendary peacemaker and spiritual leader Mohandas K. Gandhi, also known as Mahatma Gandhi. Eighteen months with his grandfather armed the younger Gandhi with the powerful philosophy of nonviolence that helped shape his life’s work. Since then he has led several successful projects for economic and social reform in India and, together with his wife Sananda, founded the M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence. Come and listen to his fascinating story!

5 p.m. • Arun Gandhi Reception
AMU, Ballroom Room A, B, E

7 p.m. • Interfaith Service
AMU, Henke Lounge
Participate in a joint prayer service, that includes a variety of traditions, to pray for peace in our broken world.

Friday, February 4
12:30-12:55 p.m. • Peace Begins with Me: Retreats into Campus
AMU, Chapel of The Holy Family
See Tuesday’s description.

Faculty Commons
Raynor Conference Center
See Tuesday’s description.

3 p.m.
Finish the week with a Wine and Cheese Gathering with Provost Madeline Wake

10 p.m.
Late Night Marquette
Join in the fun of a Late Night Marquette event. For more details see the Late Night Marquette Web site: http://latenight.marquette.edu/

Saturday, February 5
12:1 p.m. • Forgiveness on the Path to Constructing Peace
Cudahy, 001
Three College of Professional Studies students share their research and reflections, focusing on applying truth and reconciliation to current international conflicts. Followed by a simple lunch of soup and bread. Sponsored by the College of Professional Studies.

Sunday, February 6
4 p.m. • Closing Liturgy
Gesu Church
In celebration of our Catholic, Jesuit identity, all are welcome to gather as a university community with President Robert A. Wild, S.J. As a Christian institution we faithfully reflect upon how we can become Christ in the world for the entire human community, particularly in light of this year’s Mission Week theme of Constructing Peace.

For more information, call (414) 288-1881.

Office of University Mission and Identity
www.marquette.edu/missionweek/