

ADVISING STUDENTS INTERESTED IN STUDY ABROAD

We encourage students to start planning early and to work with academic advisers to build study abroad into a four-year academic plan. This document is a cheat sheet for you. It outlines the myths and where students can gather more information about study abroad program options.

STUDY ABROAD STUDENT RESOURCES

Study Abroad 101

3-4 p.m. CST every Friday

Visit studyabroad.marquette.edu for Teams Meeting link

All students (except business majors who should work with the Office of International Business Studies) are required to attend a Study Abroad 101 session led by OIE study abroad coordinators.

Study Abroad Fair

Held bi-annually, the fall fair is held in September and highlights all of Marquette's program options. The spring fair focuses on summer programs and is typically held in February.

Partner info session recordings are available! View recordings on our virtual fair website at marquette.edu/study-abroad/saf-fa2020.

Program Ambassadors

For a student who can't make it to Study Abroad 101, he or she can meet reach out to a program ambassador. Program ambassadors are study abroad alumni who act as representatives for their program and are here to answer student questions.

Visit studyabroad.marquette.edu for the current list of program ambassadors.

One-on-One Advising Meeting

If a student needs more in-depth information about a particular program after attending Study Abroad 101, he or she may schedule a virtual appointment with their Education Abroad Coordinator by visiting studyabroad.marquette.edu or email studyabroad@marquette.edu.

LEARNING A GREAT DEAL

IT'S NOT A MATTER OF IF... IT'S A MATTER OF WHEN.

IT'S AFFORDABLE.

For the majority of Marquette programs, you pay Marquette tuition and can use Marquette scholarships and federal and state financial aid. While cost-of-living varies by location, there are quite a few study abroad destinations that are less expensive than Milwaukee.

ALL MAJORS CAN STUDY ABROAD.

Students studying any discipline can study abroad. Marquette offers semester, summer and academic year opportunities. Find a program that specializes in your major, or save core curriculum courses to take while you are abroad.

YOU CAN GRADUATE ON TIME.

If you start planning early, studying abroad shouldn't delay your graduation. Most programs allow you to earn 12-18 credits per semester and 3-12 credits per summer, which can be applied directly to your degree requirements.

LEARN ANOTHER LANGUAGE AND TAKE COURSES IN ENGLISH.

Studying abroad is a great way to learn another language. Marquette also has several programs in non-English-speaking countries where you can take an introductory course in the local language and take other academic courses in English.

YOU CAN STUDY ABROAD YOUR SOPHOMORE, JUNIOR OR SENIOR YEAR.

Study abroad on a short-term program as early as the summer after your freshman year. Later spend a semester or academic year abroad and gain new perspectives on your academic field. Work with your adviser to determine which term best fits into your four-year plan.
