MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY’S DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE AND OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION PRESENT

DEMOCRACY IN TROUBLRED TIMES: BRAZIL

Monday, March 4 • 2 p.m.
AMU 227

Dr. Angela Randolpho Paiva is an associate professor of Sociology at PUC-Rio (Pontifical Catholic University of Rio de Janeiro) where she teaches in the Graduate Program of Social Sciences (PPGCIS) at the Department of Social Sciences. She holds a PhD in Sociology and has done research on citizenship and social movements.

Dr. Jessica Rich is an assistant professor in the Department of Political Science and Co-Director of the Marquette Democracy Project. Her research and teaching specializations include Latin American politics, social movements and NGOs, state-building and state capacity, and social policy.

Part of the MARQUETTE FORUM DEMOCRACY IN TROUBLE TIMES series focusing on civic dialogue and the state of democracies around the world