COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Literature, Culture and History of Ireland — Galway and Dublin, Ireland
Dates: July 10 – August 9
Course: ENGL 4951 (3 cr.)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Tyler Farrell
Program Fee*: Program Fee: $1,650; Tuition: $2,130; GeoBlue Insurance: $76
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

This program takes an in-depth look at Ireland and the literature, culture and history upon which the country is built. Students will see Ireland through the eyes of famous Irish authors. The combination of classroom learning, and hands-on excursions allow students to have a fresh and more comprehensive learning experience. The course will consist of author discussions and involve short day trips to places of note in relation to authors, including: James Joyce, W.B. Yeats, Frank O’Connor and Michael Hartnett. Students will look deeply into James Joyce and visit historical Martello Tower, the setting for the first chapter of Ulysses and travel to Yeats’ grave and the city of Sligo. Students will also experience a play at the historic Abbey Theater. While Galway and Dublin will serve as the primary homes for this program, travel to other parts of Ireland are a vital component to the program’s curriculum.

Project GO: The ROTC Language and Culture Project — Muscat, Oman
Dates: June 7 – August 1
Courses: ARBC 1001–3001 (6-8 cr.)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Enaya Othman

NOTE: Beginners intensive Arabic language pre-program runs from June 2 – June 7

Project Global Officers (GO) at Marquette offers ROTC students a full-scholarship, eight-week intensive Arabic language program in Muscat, Oman. This is part of a national effort sponsored by the Defense Language Office and National Security Education Program (DLNSEO). Project GO promotes critical language education, study abroad experiences and intercultural communication skills for ROTC cadets/midshipmen. This innovative Arabic language and cultural program will enrich your worldview while preparing you for your post-graduate military experience.

Immersive Introduction to German Studies — Frankfurt (Oder) and Berlin, Germany
Dates: June 17 – July 3
Course: GRMN 2951 (3 cr.)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Michael Koch
Program Fee*: $1,900; Tuition: $2,130; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

German-speaking Europe has played a pivotal role in the history and culture of Europe and, indeed, the world. This course will investigate some of the most significant themes in Germany and European thought from the early Middle Ages through the early 20th century by looking into their varied sources and contexts. Most of these themes and many of these individuals, works, and events have reverberations that can still be felt today. The program will travel to multiple cities but will be based in Berlin and Frankfurt (Oder), Germany. In Frankfurt (Oder), the group will stay with Marquette University partner, Viadrina University. Prereq: GRMN 2003 or consent of instructor.

Language and Culture in Cordoba — Cordoba, Spain
Dates: June 22 – July 20 (travel)

Faculty Leader: Dr. Julia Paulk
Program Fee: $2,250; Tuition $4,260; GeoBlue insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

Located in southern Spain, students will have the chance to explore the rich history of the local area while being taught by both MU and ULA language professors - a full immersion into the Spanish language and culture. This program is the ideal introduction to Spain for those who want to improve their Spanish. Students will take courses at our partner institution, Universidad Loyola Andalucia (ULA), on the Córdoba campus.

Gender, Sexualities and Culture in South Africa — Cape Town, South Africa
Dates: June 23– July 7 (travel)
Course: INGS 2951 (3 cr.) or SOWJ 2951 (3 cr.)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Corinne Schwarz
Program Fee: $600 tentative; Tuition: $2,130; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

This course will revolve around South Africa’s tumultuous social and political history and the constructed, intersectional nature of race, sexualities, and gender as categories of analysis and as lived realities. Students will examine and compare gender and sexualities in the US and South Africa, and learn how South Africans are addressing some of the injustices and suffering connected to gender and sexualities in their country.

A Front-Row Seat for the European Reformations – Strasbourg, France
Dates: July 12 – August 1
Courses: THEO 2951 (3 cr.) (fulfills old core requirement; new core – Discovery Tier) Faculty Leader: Dr. Mickey Mattox
Program Fee*: TBD; Tuition: $2,130; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

Strasbourg is an ideal place to experience the texture of the early Reformation as it is home to significant movements at the origins of several important Protestant church bodies. The course will focus on the split between Protestants and Catholics in the sixteenth century that eventually led not only to Protestant / Catholic division, but to inner Protestant division as well. Students will come away from the course with a new understanding of the role of religion in pre-modern European society, and so will be better equipped to take stock of the challenges religious change and conflict bring to our world today.

Study Abroad in Northern Ireland: Conflict and Peacebuilding — Belfast and Londonderry, United Kingdom & Achill Island, Galway, and Dublin, Ireland
Dates: August 2 – August 15
Course: FOLA 4951 (3 cr.)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Sarah Gendron
Program Fee*: $2,150; Tuition: $2,130; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

In line with Marquette’s commitment to social justice and peacemaking, this 3-credit program will focus on The Troubles in Northern Ireland through readings, lectures, testimonials, and site visits. Students will learn about Northern Ireland’s history with Great Britain and the disastrous effects this would later have on the population. Equally important, by meeting with representatives of the government, media, health professionals, survivors and former “terrorists”, students will also have the opportunity to witness how the Northern Irish have attempted to transcend the subsequent trauma to become one of the most developed and safe areas in Western Europe.

Comparative Criminology & Criminal Justice in South Korea — Seoul, South Korea
Dates: June 30 – July 20
Courses: CRLS 4951 (3 cr.)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Darren Wheelock
Program Fee*: $2,100*; Tuition: $2,130; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses. This program fee is subject to change as costs are finalized.

Students will study issues of crime and social justice alongside students from Sogang University in Seoul, South Korea. Individuals studying criminal justice will benefit from experiential learning through prison tours, museum visits and interactions with criminal justice organizations. Students will hear from guest speakers, lectures, discussion, videos and tours of prisons around the greater Seoul area. There are very contrasting styles of responding to crime between the United States and South Korea. This program explores the differences between Western democracy with harsh punishments and Eastern democracy with less punitive criminal justice based upon Confucian values. The program is a good fit for students majoring in sociology, criminology and law studies, social welfare and justice, or political science.

COLLEGE OF NURSING

Community Nursing in Peru — Lima & Cusco, Peru
Dates: May 17 – June 14
Course: NURS 4951 (4 cr.)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Christine Schindler and Theresa Schnable
Program Fee*: $1,300; Tuition: $2,840; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

Marquette University’s College of Nursing offers nursing students the unique opportunity to complete a community clinical experience in Lima and Cusco, Peru, after completing their community theory course at Marquette. This month-long program focuses on community health nursing in collaboration with Universidad Antonio Ruiz de Montoya (UARM). UARM has a robust nursing program and offers a well-trained nursing staff who work with our Marquette faculty leaders to provide excellent health clinical sites. While in Lima, students will visit local indigenous healthcare clinics, community health care projects, and cultural and historical sites.
*On-campus coursework is required prior to departure.
All Marquette faculty-led programs will be offered in summer 2019 pending final university approval and participant numbers.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Education in the Americas: Philosophy & Critical Issues — Lima, Peru
Dates: May 20- June 17
Course: EDUC 4951 (6 cr.) (Fulfills EDUC 4540 and EDUC 4240)
Faculty Leader: Dr. Melissa Gibson
Program Fee*: $2,400; Tuition: $4,260; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses

This study abroad experience will combine educational field studies in Peru with traditional seminar meetings in order to link theory, research, and practice. Students will work comparatively between the contexts they are encountering in Peru, which serve a wide range of communities, and the contexts they may know intimately in the US. Specific topics addressed will include [1] the social context of schools; [2] theorizing and distributing educational aims; [3] educational (in)equity, neoliberalism, and school reform; [4] race, class, and language; and [5] approaches to educational change. Students will develop their own philosophy of education, and they will write a comparative analysis paper for a public audience about a critical educational issue in Peru and the US.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH SCIENCES

Global Mobility Outreach — Manila, Philippines
Dates: TBD
Course: BIEN 4951
Faculty Leader: Dr. Gerald Harris
Program Fee*: $810; GeoBlue Insurance: $38
*Fee does not include airfare and personal expenses. Tuition for this course will be paid in the spring semester billing cycle.

This course includes on-campus coursework and lecture, in addition to a travel component over the summer. The course itself introduces human motion analysis and describes how the technology can be applied to improve rehabilitation and orthopedic care for children and young adults with disabilities in international settings of need. This program will include comprehensive background information, hands-on laboratory experience, and a final practicum and demonstration. Students will then travel to an outreach motion laboratory to observe patient care and participate in research in the Philippines, upon successful completion of the course.
