

Jerry Prout CV

Summary Following a forty-year career in corporate public and government affairs, currently teach courses in political economy at Marquette University.

Education Ph.D. History, George Mason University (2012)
M.A. Political Science, American University (1979)
M.A. History, Duke University (1972)
B.A. History, Westminster College (MO), (1971)

Publications Coxey's Crusade for Jobs, Northern Illinois University Press, 2016
"Hope, Fear, and Confusion: Coxey's Arrival in Washington," Washington History; Summer, 2013
"How the Media Creates Its Own Reality," History News Network; January 16, 2010
"Reconstructing Our National Narrative," Madison Historical Review; November, 2007
"Corporate Responsibility in the Global Economy: The Business Case," Society and Business Review; Summer, 2006
"Coming to Terms with Environmental Justice" Corporate Environmental Strategy; Winter, 1999
"Politically Correcting Pesticide Exports," Regulation; Spring, 1992
"Industry and the Environment," Public Relations Review; Winter, 1983
"On Expecting Corporate Ethical Reform," Public Relations Review; Summer, 1978
"Corporate Social Strategy in a Post-Industrial World," Conference Board Record; September 1975

Career 2012 to present: Visiting Assistant Professor, Political Science, Marquette University (Milwaukee, WI)
2000 to 2013: Vice President, Government and Public Affairs, FMC Corporation (Washington, D.C.)
1987 to 1999: Director, Regulatory Affairs, FMC Corporation (Washington, D.C.)
1979 to 1987: Director, Public Affairs, FMC Corporation (Philadelphia PA)
1976 to 1979: Vice President, Burson-Marsteller (Washington DC)
1973 to 1976: Manager, Government Relations, Whirlpool Corporation (Benton Harbor, MI)

Other 1st LT. US Army Reserve (1972-9)
Department of Commerce, International Trade Advisor (2000-2008)
Board Member, Congressional Awards (2004-2013)

Contact gerald.prout@marquette.edu
jprout49@gmail.com
571-225-8126