

Patrick J. Sobkowski

CONTACT INFORMATION: 1420 W. Clybourn St., Milwaukee, WI 53233
Marquette University | patrick.sobkowski@marquette.edu
Twitter: @PJSobkowski

EMPLOYMENT

Marquette University, Milwaukee, WI, 2023-present
Adjunct Assistant Professor of Political Science

Courses: Constitutional Law I & II, Courts and Public Policy, American Federalism

United States District Court, Southern District of Ohio, Columbus, OH, 2022-2023
Judicial Law Clerk – The Honorable Norah McCann King

- Draft opinions in Social Security appeals
- Conduct legal research
- Assist in various administrative matters

Carthage College, Kenosha, WI, 2021-2022
Career Specialist for Public Service and Social Impact

- Coordinate and host career building events with faculty and campus offices
- Assist and meet with students interested in attending law school
- Prepare and give presentations on various issues

EDUCATION

University of Dayton School of Law, Dayton, OH
J.D., 2021
Staff Writer, University of Dayton Law Review
Dean's Fellow
Student Ambassador
Honor Council
Judicial Extern to Justice Sharon L. Kennedy, Supreme Court of Ohio

Carthage College, Kenosha, WI
B.A., History (Honors, Phi Alpha Theta), minor in Economics
CCIW Academic All-Conference – Men's Swimming (2015-2018)

PUBLICATIONS

Patrick J. Sobkowski, Consistent with the Letter and Spirit: Seila Law v. CFPB and the Future of Presidential Removal Power, 47 U. DAYTON L. REV. 163 (2022).

- Reviewed as “remarkable and sophisticated” by Professor Lawrence Solum at Legal Theory Blog
- Winner of Francis J. Conte Award (voted on by faculty) for superior legal research and merit

Patrick J. Sobkowski, A Matter of “Principal”: A Critique of the Federal Circuit’s Decision in Arthrex v. Smith & Nephew, Inc. 98 WASH. U. L. REV. ONLINE 4 (2021).

Patrick J. Sobkowski, Of Major Questions and Nondelegation, YALE JOURNAL ON REGULATION: NOTICE & COMMENT (July 3, 2023), <https://www.yalejreg.com/nc/of-major-questions-and-nondelegation-by-patrick-j-sobkowski/>

- “Recommended” by Professor Lawrence Solum at Legal Theory Blog

Patrick J. Sobkowski, Review of Jesse Tarbert’s WHEN GOOD GOVERNMENT MEANT BIG GOVERNMENT (2021), LIBERAL CURRENTS, (April 28, 2022), <https://www.liberalcurrents.com/moderate-reformers-and-the-american-administrative-state-jesse-tarberts-when-good-government-meant-big-government/>

WORKS-IN-PROGRESS

“The Unitary Executive: A Literature Review”

“The Warren Court, Public Opinion, and the Counter-Majoritarian Difficulty,” (Co-author with Calvin TerBeek, PhD, University of Chicago)

INVITED PRESENTATIONS AND CAMPUS TALKS

“The Future of the Presidency and the Separation of Powers,” University of Dayton School of Law (October 19, 2022, Dayton, OH), invited by faculty.

DEPARTMENT SERVICE AND ORGANIZATIONS

Pre-Law Advisor, Klinger College of Arts and Sciences, Marquette University

- Assist students interested in pursuing law school
- Organize various programming events
- Coordinate with Marquette Law School

RESEARCH ASSISTANCE

Research Assistant to Professor Jeffrey Schmitt (Fall 2020 to Spring 2021)

- Jeffrey M. Schmitt, Slavery and the History of Congress’s Enumerated Powers, 74 ARK. L. REV. 641 (2022).
- Conducted research concerning constitutional interpretation and the history of slavery.
- Met regularly with Professor Schmitt to discuss research findings.
- Provided substantive comments and feedback.

AWARDS

Francis J. Conte Award for superior research and argument on the merits

Consistent With the Letter and Spirit: Seila Law v. CFPB and the Future of Presidential Removal Power, 47 U. DAYTON L. REV. 163 (2022).

John Bailey Award for best history paper, Carthage College

Richard Hofstadter: Transcending Consensus