

The

REV. FRANCIS WADE, S.J., PUBLIC LECTURE

Are Human Beings Unique? What is Specific to the Human Species? Encounters Between Christian Anthropology and Neuroscience.

Rev. Luis O. Jiménez-Rodríguez, S.J.

Father Jiménez-Rodríguez is the Rev. Francis Wade, S.J., chair for fall 2017 in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15
4 P.M.

Beumier Suites BC, Raynor Library
Reception immediately following

Rev. Luis O. Jiménez-Rodríguez, S.J., is a Jesuit from Puerto Rico. He graduated in 1996 from Purdue University with a doctorate in electrical engineering in the fields of signal processing and pattern recognition. Since then he has been a professor at the School of Engineering in the University of Puerto Rico, Mayagüez. In 2012 he finished a doctorate in theology (S.T.D.) at the Catholic University of Louvain-la-Neuve, Belgium. There he was an active member of the "Groupe de recherche sur la rationalité théologique" (Research Group in Theological Rationality and Method).

His research interests are the relationship between science and theology; dialogue between neuroscience and Christian anthropology; fundamental theology; ethics and technology; integration of values in engineering design process; pattern recognition; and remote sensing. He has published many articles on engineering, philosophy and theology in books, peer-reviewed journals and peer-reviewed congresses.

For questions or special needs, contact Debra Reeder at debra.reeder@marquette.edu or 414.288.7511.

MARQUETTE
UNIVERSITY

BE THE DIFFERENCE.