RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Graduate Research Assistant
Marquette University- Milwaukee, WI August 2017-Present
Research Lab: Behavior Therapy and Research Lab
Research Advisor: Douglas W. Woods, Ph.D.
Research Interests: Cultural differences in environmental consequences and presentations of tics; impact of culture and environment on the manifestation and experience of tic disorders; differentiating tic-related from non-tic-related impairment in individuals with persistent tic disorders, long-term course of Tourette's disorder and if behavioral treatments last over time.
Research Activities: Conduct clinical interviews and assessments (e.g., Yale Global Tic Severity Scale [YGTSS], Mini International Neuropsychiatric Interviews [MINI], Clinical Global Impressions Scale [CGI]) with adult research participants; analyze data via various statistical programs including IBM SPSS; and prepare manuscripts. Assist with developing a computerized training program for effectively training therapists to administer behavioral therapy for tic disorders. Recruit participants for a long term follow-up study in order to see if gains made in behavioral treatment for tics last over time, and to also learn about the long-term course of Tourette's disorder.

Undergraduate Research Assistant

Johns Hopkins University- Baltimore, MD

May 2016-August 2016
